Working Across Boundaries Jeffrey Braithwaite, Erik Hollnagel, Garth S Hunte, 2019-06-03 The book demonstrates how Resilient Health Care principles can enable those on the frontline to work more effectively towards interdisciplinary care by gaining a deeper understanding of the boundaries that exist in everyday clinical settings This is done by presenting a set of case studies theoretical chapters and applications that relate experiences bring forth ideas and illustrate practical solutions The chapters address many different issues such as resolving conflict overcoming barriers to patient flow management and building connections through negotiation They represent a range of approaches rather than a single way of solving the practical problems and have been written to serve both a scientific and an andragogical purpose Working Across Boundaries is primarily aimed at people who are directly involved in the running and improvement of health care systems providing them with practical guidance It will also be of direct interest to health care professionals in clinical and managerial positions as well as researchers Presents the latest work of the lauded Resilient Health Care Net group developing applications of Resilience Engineering to health care furthering safety thinking and generating applicable solutions that will benefit patient safety worldwide Enables health care professionals to become aware of the boundaries that affect their work so that they are able to use their strengths and overcome their weaknesses Written from a Safety II perspective where the purpose is to make sure that as much as possible goes well and the focus therefore is on everyday work rather than on failures There are at present no other books that adopt this perspective nor which go into the practical details Provides a concise presentation of the state of resilient health care as a science in terms of major theoretical issues and practical methods and techniques on the overarching and important topics of boundary crossing and integration of care settings
