The Rise of the Curator Class Steffon Davis, 2019-03-14
Pairing big ideas in marketing with the popular activity of content curation The Rise of the Curator Class positions curation as a humanization movement that is restructuring the internet Curation is set to overturn the 2.2 trillion global creative industry revolutionizing how we create market and discover content In the era of content overload and fake news in which everything to buy listen to read or watch is available online there is one group of people who have learned to thrive in this climate of superabundance the curator class whose influence and power grows as more people look to them as guides This new curator class is rewriting traditional curation tackling the overload and making sense of it for others In the past curation was available to an elite few Now internet platforms such as Pinterest Spotify and Twitter empower hundreds of millions of people to curate their ideas for anyone who may be interested revolutionizing how content is marketed and sold The Rise of the Curator Class explains how curation is disrupting internet commerce as consumer trust moves farther away from traditional brands and closer to the curators who lead tastes and it equips readers to think critically about how curation can work for them

The Woman Who Fooled The World Beau Donnelly, Nick Toscano, 2017-11-13 Belle Gibson convinced the world she had healed herself of terminal brain cancer by eating a healthy diet She built a global business based on her story There was just one problem she never had cancer in the first place In 2015 journalists uncovered the truth behind Gibson's lies This hero of the wellness world with over 200,000 followers international book deals and a best selling mobile app was a fraud She had lied about having cancer to her family and friends to her business partners and publishers and to the hundreds of thousands of people including genuine cancer survivors who were inspired by her Instagram posts Written by the two journalists who uncovered the details of Gibson's deception The Woman Who Fooled the World tracks the 23 year old's rise to fame and fall from grace Told through interviews with the people who know her best it explores the lure of alternative cancer treatments exposes the darkness at the heart of the wellness and clean eating movements and reveals just how easy it is to manipulate people on social media With the idea of clean eating now routinely debunked by dietary experts and growing scepticism about the authenticity of what we read online The Woman Who Fooled the World is a timely and important book that answers not just how but why Gibson was able to fool so many

Collaborative #sunrise Mui Ling Lam, 2015 Collaborative Sunrise is a computational art installation that draws on themes of nature color time and social connectedness using Instagram photos from around the world to create an eternal sunrise Collaborative Sunrise consists of two components a synthesized digital animation of an Eternal Sunrise and the Collaborative Sunrise Map The first component downloads Instagram photos with the hashtag sunrise in real time and uses a machine learning algorithm to filter out advertisements and other unrelated content Another computer algorithm extracts colors from the photos and channels them into a synthetic animation of what the current sunrise looks like The second component uses a mechanism that pins the Instagram photos used to create the synthetic sunrise onto a world map based on associated geo location information The installation itself consists of two 5 by 14 foot images of both the map and artificial sunrise projected onto the sides of the PlayCube Using the abundance and instantaneity of these pictures made possible by technology and the cultural infrastructure of social media I aim to translate this precious real life moment into a experience of perpetual digital content
