Deconstructing Masculinity: Interrogating the Role of Symbolism in Gender Performativity Lauren Dundes ,Michael Macaluso, 2024-09-19 Progress towards gender parity is hindered by unconscious ways that hypermasculinity is valorized at a symbolic level By deconstructing how social and textual phenomena as well as social structures contribute to gender performativity we can elucidate hard to discern patterns that perpetuate hegemonic masculinity The subliminal elevation of symbols of hypermasculinity excludes both women and non gender conforming men By delving into these symbolic meanings that operate subliminally we can more effectively debunk beliefs that real men fall within narrow parameters of masculinity There remains much to explore in terms of hidden pressures for men to constrain their expression of emotions project an appearance of hardness and equate violence with power to name just a few persistent facets of toxic masculinity While abstract forms of inculcating hypermasculinity are difficult to identify interrogating their role in masculine performativity will result in a more comprehensive understanding of impediments to gender equality

Sylvia Plath Day by Day, Volume 1 Carl Rollyson, 2023-08-14 Since Sylvia Plath s death in 1963 she has become the subject of a constant stream of books biographies and articles She has been hailed as a groundbreaking poet for her starkly beautiful poems in Ariel and as a brilliant forerunner of the feminist coming of age novel in her semiautobiographical The Bell Jar. Each new biography has offered insight and sources with which to measure Plath's life and influence. Sylvia Plath Day by Day, a two volume series, offers a distillation of this data without the inherent bias of a narrative. Volume 1 commences with Plath's birth in Boston in 1932, records her response to her elementary and high school years, her entry into Smith College and her breakdown and suicide attempt, and ends on February 14, 1955, the day she wrote to Ruth Cohen, principal of Newnham College, Cambridge, to accept admission as an affiliated student at Newnham College to read for the English Tripos. Sylvia Plath Day by Day is for readers of all kinds with a wide variety of interests in the woman and her work. The entries are suitable for dipping into and can be read in a minute or an hour. Ranging over several sources, including Plath's diaries, journals, letters, stories, and other prose and poetry, including new material and archived material rarely seen by readers, a fresh kaleidoscopic view of the writer emerges.

Choosing College Michael B. Horn, Bob Moesta, 2019-08-23

Cut through the noise and make better college and career choices. This book is about addressing the college choosing problem. The rankings, metrics, analytics, college visits, and advice that we use today to help us make these decisions are out of step with the progress individual students are trying to make. They don't give students and families the information and context they need to make such a high stakes decision about whether and where to get an education. Choosing College strips away the noise to help you understand why you're going to school. What's driving you? What are you trying to accomplish? Once you know why, the book will help you make better choices. The research in this book illustrates that choosing a school is complicated. By constructing more than 200 mini documentaries of how students chose different postsecondary educational experiences, the authors explore the motivations for how and why people make the decisions that they do at a much deeper causal level. By the end, you'll know why you're going and what you're really chasing. The book identifies the five different jobs for which students hire postsecondary education. Allows you to see your true options for what's next. Offers guidance for how to successfully choose your pathway. Illuminates how colleges and entrepreneurs can build better experiences for each job. The authors help readers understand not what job students want out of college, but what job students are hiring college to do for them.
