WHO report on the global tobacco epidemic 2021 ,2021-07-27 International Vat Harmonization Mr.Steven A.

Symansky,Mr.Jacob A. Frenkel,Assaf Razin,1991-02-01 This paper highlights key macroeconomic issues related to VAT harmonization A model is developed which emphasizes the effects of changes in the time profile of various taxes on international behavior Dynamic simulations reveal that the macroeconomic and welfare implications of VAT harmonization including conflicts of interest depend critically on the tax system and the degree of substitution governing temporal and intertemporal allocations We also demonstrate that the effects of revenue neutral tax conversions between income and consumption tax systems undertaken by a single country depend critically on international differences in behavior Timing and Measurement of Taxpayer Deductions for Obligations to be Paid in the Future United States. The Great Carbon Arbitrage Mr. Tobias Adrian,Mr. Patrick Bolton,Alissa M. Kleinnijenhuis,2022-06 We measure the gains from phasing out coal as the average social cost of carbon times the quantity of avoided emissions By comparing the present value of benefits from avoided emissions against the present value of costs of ending coal and replacing it with renewables our conservative baseline estimate is that the world can realize a net gain of 85 trillion This global net social benefit can be attained through an international agreement to phase out coal We also explore how this net benefit is distributed across countries and find that most countries would benefit from a global coal phase out even without any compensatory cross country transfers Finally we estimate the size of public funds that must be committed under a blended finance arrangement to finance the cost of replacing coal with renewables
