

Organizational Communication

The background of the cover is an abstract composition. It features a large, stylized eye in the center, composed of various geometric and organic shapes. The eye's iris is a vibrant blue with a red and white pattern. The surrounding areas are filled with soft, blended colors of blue, yellow, and orange. There are also some darker, more complex shapes that suggest architectural or technological elements, like a building or a circuit board. The overall effect is one of modernity and complexity, reflecting the themes of organizational communication.
