Orhan Pamuk Secularism And Blasphemy The Politics Of The Turkish Novel:

Orhan Pamuk, Secularism and Blasphemy Erdağ M. Göknar, 2013 Orhan Pamuk Secularism and Blasphemy is the first critical study of all of Pamuk's novels including the early untranslated work. In 2005 Orhan Pamuk was charged with insulting Turkishness under Article 301 of the Turkish penal code. Eighteen months later he was awarded the Nobel Prize. After decades of criticism for wielding a depoliticized pen, Pamuk was cast as a dissident through his trial, an event that underscored his transformation from national literateur to global author. By contextualizing Pamuk's fiction into the Turkish tradition and by defining the literary and political intersections of his work, Orhan Pamuk Secularism and Blasphemy rereads Pamuk's dissidence as a factor of the form of his novels. This is not a traditional study of literature but a book that turns to literature to ask larger questions about recent transformations in Turkish history, identity, modernity, and collective memory. As a corrective to common misreadings of Pamuk's work in its international reception, Orhan Pamuk Secularism and Blasphemy applies various analytical lenses to the politics of the Turkish novel, including gender studies, cultural translation, historiography, and Islam. The book argues that modern literature that confronts representations of the nation-state or devlet with those of Ottoman, Islamic, and Sufi contexts or din constitute secular blasphemies that redefine the politics of the Turkish novel. Concluding with a meditation on conditions of untranslatability in Turkish literature, this study provides a comprehensive and critical analysis of Pamuk's novels to date.

Twenty-Five Women Who Shaped the Ottoman

Empire Ruth Miller, 2025-03-26 Twenty Five Women Who Shaped the Ottoman Empire is a tale of how women's triumphs as well as their failures shaped a global society not despite but because of gender. The Ottoman Empire was among the longest-lived polities in history, stretching between the thirteenth and twentieth centuries across three continents, several seas, and scores of cities, deserts, mountain ranges, rivers, and forests. This volume provides a compendium of idiosyncratic life stories and explores how women from these eras and regions understood the shape of the world in which they lived and how they brought their consciousness of their gender to their efforts to reshape it. Among the questions explored in the book are how women have negotiated and constructed the public and private spheres; how to define women's speech in a world mediated by men and male-dominated genres and institutions; and how women experienced their bodies as sites of politically inflected reproduction, death, and decay. The book is thus an accessibly offbeat feminist overview of the field of Ottoman History that provides students, scholars, general readers, and non-specialists with insights into the lives and work of both ordinary Ottoman women and celebrated Ottoman women: women who failed despite their best efforts and women who succeeded against all odds, suicides, spies, and murderers as well as queens, scientists, and poets.

Orhan Pamuk and the Good of World

Literature Gloria Fisk, 2018-02-13 When Orhan Pamuk won the Nobel Prize for Literature in 2006, he was honored as a builder of bridges across a dangerous chasm. By rendering his Turkish characters and settings familiar where they would otherwise seem troublingly foreign, and by speaking freely against his authoritarian state, he demonstrated a variety of literary greatness that testified also to the good literature can do in the world Gloria Fisk challenges this standard for canonization as world literature by showing how poorly it applies to Pamuk Reading the Turkish novelist as a case study in the ways Western readers expand their reach Fisk traces the terms of his engagement with a literary market dominated by the tastes of its Anglophone publics who received him as a balm for their anxieties about Islamic terrorism and the stratifications of global capitalism Fisk reads Pamuk's post 9/11 novels as they circulated through this audience as rich in cultural capital as it is far flung in the American English that is global capital's lingua franca She launches a polemic against Anglophone readers instrumental use of literature as a source of crosscultural understanding contending that this pervasive way of reading across all manner of borders limits the globality it announces because it serves the interests of the Western cultural and educational institutions that produce it Orhan Pamuk and the Good of World Literature proposes a new way to think about the uneven processes of translation circulation and judgment that carry contemporary literature to its readers wherever they live

Bernard Lonergan's Third Way of the Heart and Mind John Raymaker, 2016-09-30 Today the world is confronted with many religious wars and the migrations of millions of persons due to these conflicts There is a need for informed dialog as to the roots of the conflicts and ways of addressing these in ways that speak to peoples minds and hearts This is what this book attempts to do from the viewpoint of major religious and ethical thinkers The book relies on Bernard Lonergan's foundational method to address problems systematically with a view to achieve breakthroughs in our openness to one another The book appeals to the teachings of the Buddha Jesus and Mohammad relying on the mystical and insights of these religious founders as well as those of dozens of their followers so as to find commonalities that can build bridges of mercy A global secularity ethics plays a leading role in this book's bridging efforts

Transnational Politics in the Post-9/11 Novel Joseph Conte, 2019-11-22 Transnational Politics in the Post 9/11 Novel suggests that literature after September 11 2001 reflects the shift from bilateral nation state politics to the multilateralism of transnational politics While much of the criticism regarding novels of 9/11 tends to approach these works through theories of personal and collective trauma this book argues for the evolution of a post 9/11 novel that pursues a transversal approach to global conflicts that are unlikely to be resolved without diverse peoples willing to set aside sectarian interests These novels embrace not only American writers such as Don DeLillo Dave Eggers Ken Kalfus Thomas Pynchon and Amy Waldman but also the countervailing perspectives of global novelists such as J M Coetzee Orhan Pamuk Mohsin Hamid and Laila Halaby These are not novels about terrorism nor do they seek comfort in the respectful cloak of national mourning Rather they are instances of the novel in terror which recognizes that everything having been changed after 9/11 only the formally inventive presentation will suffice to acknowledge the event's unrepresentability and its shock to the political order

Approaches to Teaching the Works of Orhan Pamuk Sevinç Türkkan, David Damrosch, 2017-10-01 Winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature in 2006 Orhan Pamuk is Turkey's preeminent novelist and an internationally recognized figure of letters Influenced by both

Displacing Fictions of Orhan Pamuk
 Hande Gürses,2023-11-21 Displacing Fictions of Orhan Pamuk Beyond the Bridge questions the prevailing relevance and violence of the bridge metaphor for literature through new readings of Orhan Pamuk This book argues that despite its association with connection dialogue and reconciliation the bridge is an inherently violent structure that controls movement by regulating it Drawing on deconstruction and Derrida the author argues for a rethinking of the intrinsic connection between the bridge and the writings of Orhan Pamuk Exploring Pamuk s significance as an author of the world literature canon this book investigates the history and theory of the discipline as a bridge Identifying new metaphors in Pamuk s work Hande G rses shows the political potential of moving beyond the bridge As people lands and ideas keep moving Displacing Fictions of Orhan Pamuk argues for an urgent need for new metaphors to understand and represent the realities of our contemporary world

Reading James Joyce and Orhan Pamuk Petru Golban,2025-07-24 Reading James Joyce and Orhan Pamuk reveals how by embracing the idea that an individual subject and history of a nation and the city mutually shape identities as formative processes James Joyce and Orhan Pamuk create portraits adapting bildung to chart the becoming of the protagonist alongside the development of a nation of people emerging from and redefining themselves in the waning years of the empire as for Joyce or some decades after the end of the empire as for Pamuk Their life narratives encompassing artistic formation act as metaphors for the emergence of an independent in Joyce or new in Pamuk nation from imperial rule but in asserting a modernist standing both Joyce and Pamuk the latter from a metamodernist perspective with his emphasis on the h z n beauty and hidden symmetry of the text remind us of something else too To understand the literary work one needs the frameworks of ideas contemporary and not only to it but the reader of the present book will re discover that modernism teaches us that the value and use of art are to do with appropriating individual inward in order to inform what is profoundly human or art is dulce rather than utile advancing formalism rather than moralizing or formalist artfulness diffusing pleasure of visceral delightful artistic comprehension rather than monumentality Ultimately art sparks off beauty and is about perpetuating recognizable experiences but modernism favours the use of the literary work to be also in its having always something new and different to say Modernism advocates the value that the literary work has in the end to reside in its identity as a literary work product of art and this identity prevails over its task of offering as an informative or pedagogical tool via verisimilitude of reconstructed historical documents and recordings a mere surrogate of some reasserted meanings and essences for various personal and communal experiences Pamuk's Istanbul Pallavi Narayan, 2022-04-28 This book reconstructs Istanbul through the prism of Orhan Pamuk's fiction. It navigates the multiple selves and layers of Istanbul to present how the city has shaped the writings of Pamuk and has in turn been shaped by it. Through everyday objects and architecture it shows how Pamuk transforms the city into a living museum where different objects converse along with characters to present a rich tapestry across space and time. Further, the monograph explores the formation of communal and literary identity within and around nation-building narratives informed by capitalism and modernization. The book also examines how Pamuk uses the postmodern city to move beyond its postmodern confines and utilizes the theories and universes of Bakhtin, Benjamin, and Foucault to open up his fiction and radically challenge the idea of the novel. The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of literature, literary theory, museum studies, architecture, and cultural studies and especially appeal to readers of Orhan Pamuk. Routledge Handbook on Turkish Literature Didem Havlioğlu, Zeynep Uysal, 2023-04-10 This Handbook provides a comprehensive overview of Turkish literature within both a local and global context. Across eight thematic sections, a collection of subject experts use close readings of literature materials to provide a critical survey of the main issues and topics within the literature. The chapters provide analysis on a wide range of genres and text types including novels, poetry, religious texts, and drama, with works studied ranging from the fourteenth century right up to the present day. Using such a historic scope allows the volume to be read across cultures and time while simultaneously contextualizing and investigating how modern Turkish literature interacts with world literature and finds its place within it. Collectively, the authors challenge the national literary historiography by replacing the Ottoman Turkish literature in the Anatolian civilizations with its plurality of cultures. They also seek to overcome the institutional and theoretical shortcomings within current study of such works, suggesting new approaches and methods for the study of Turkish literature. The Routledge Handbook on Turkish Literature marks a new departure in the reading and studying of Turkish literature. It will be a vital resource for those studying literature, Middle East studies, Turkish and Ottoman history, social sciences, and political science. The Provincial and The Postcolonial in Cultural Texts from Late Modern Turkey Evren Özselçuk, 2022-07-26 This book explores Turkey's complicated relationship to modernity and its status within the new global order by tracing the ambivalent ways in which ta ra (the provinces) is constituted in contemporary Turkish cinema and literature. Connoting much more than its immediate spatial meaning as those places outside of the center, ta ra is a way of naming what modernity decries as spatial peripherality, temporal belatedness, and cultural backwardness. It has functioned historically as a psychosocial repository for what Turkish modernity degrades and disavows, enabling a mapping of the predicaments and contradictions of Turkish modernization and national identity.
