The Medusa Gaze in Contemporary Women's Fiction Gillian M. E. Alban, 2017-08-21

The Medusa Gaze offers striking insights into the desires and frustrations of women through the narratives of the impressive contemporary novelists Angela Carter Toni Morrison Sylvia Plath Margaret Atwood A S Byatt Iris Murdoch Jeanette Winterson Jean Rhys and Michelle Roberts It illuminates women's power and vulnerability as they construct their own egos in opposition to their hostile alter egos or others facing them in their mirrors and fixes a panoptic gaze on the women stalking its pages as they learn how to deflect the menacing gaze of others by returning their look defiantly back at them Some stare back and win assurance others are stared down reduced to psychic trauma madness and even suicide The book shows how Freud's Sartre's and Lacan's androcentric views define the Medusa in other as monstrous and how the efforts of mothers to nurture may be slighted as inadequate or devouring It presents Medusa and other goddess figures as inspirational repelling harm through the evil eye of their powerful gaze Conversely it also shows women who are condemned as monstrous Gorgons trapped in enmity rivalry and rage Representing English American and African American Canadian and Caribbean writing the works explored here include realistic social narrative and magical realist writings in addition to tales of the past and dystopian narratives

Corporeal Archipelagos Julia Frengs, 2017-12-27

Corporeal Archipelagos Writing the Body in Francophone Oceanian Women's Literature offers an examination of contemporary literature from the French-speaking Oceanian region through a focus on four of its most prolific women writers and the ways in which these writers negotiate identity construction through one of the most powerful identity markers in the region the body The question of the body how one is to make meaning through corporeality how one represents the body and what role the body plays in identity construction is not only a question with which feminists and postcolonial theorists have been grappling for nearly a half-century The body is of integral significance to autochthonous Oceanian societies whose views of corporeality are not built upon a dualistic mind/body binary that has influenced Western thought since the era of Descartes but rather on a cosmological epistemological axis that comprehends the body as intertwined with symbolic social and ideological understandings of identity Beginning with an analysis of the ways in which the Oceanian body has been portrayed and consumed as an exotic object of fascination throughout three centuries of European literature the book examines the myriad methods by which women writers break away from exotic myths and reappropriate the body as a powerful tool that enables them to confront the question of self definition in French speaking Oceania The authors examined in this book employ culturally racially and sexually specific bodies in the creation of an original confrontational literature that transgresses historically and culturally imposed boundaries audaciously inserting their voices the voices of Oceania into the postcolonial francophone literary scene Weekly World News ,1988-11-08 Rooted in the creative success of over 30 years of supermarket tabloid publishing the Weekly World News has been the world s only reliable news source since 1979 The online hub www.weeklyworldnews.com is a leading entertainment news site
