Success in sport depends upon the athlete's ability to develop and perfect a specific set of perceptual, cognitive, and motor skills. Leading international experts explore key topics such as attentional focus, augmented feedback, observational practice, and learning, implicit motor learning, mental imagery, training, physical guidance, motivation, and motor learning, neurophysiology, development of skill, joint action. Throughout the book addresses the implications of current research for instruction and practice in sport, making explicit connections between core science and sporting performance. No other book covers this fundamental topic in such breadth or depth, making this book important reading for any student, scholar, or practitioner working in sport science, cognitive science, kinesiology, clinical and rehabilitation sciences, neurophysiology, psychology, ergonomics, or robotics.
