The Yellow Fairy Book Leonora B. Lang,2024-12-05 Where is the harm The truth is that the Folk Lore Society made up of the most clever learned and beautiful men and women of the country is fond of studying the history and geography of Fairy Land This is contained in very old tales such as country people tell and savages Little Sioux and little Crow Little frosty Eskimo These people are thought to know most about fairyland and its inhabitants But in the Yellow Fairy Book and the rest are many tales by persons who are neither savages nor rustics such as Madame D'Aulnoy and Herr Hans Christian Andersen The Folk Lore Society or its president say that their tales are not so true as the rest and should not be published with the rest But we say that all the stories which are pleasant to read are quite true enough for us so here they are with pictures by Mr Ford and we do not think that either the pictures or the stories are likely to mislead children

The Mysteries of Modern London George Robert Sims,2024-12-05 A MYSTERY is in a popular sense that which cannot be easily explained a circumstance that cannot be readily accounted for Something is but how or why we cannot tell The mysteries of modern London are as the sands of the seashore The mighty city itself is a mystery The lives of thousands of its inhabitants are mysteries In the glare and clamour of the noonday as in the darkness and silence of the night the mysteries arise sometimes to startle the world sometimes to attract so little attention that the story of them never reaches the public ear There are mysteries blazoned forth with all the glamour that the contents bill and the headline can give them and there are mysteries that are jealously guarded by those high in authority lest public curiosity should seek to fathom them There are mysteries in splendid mansions and in squalid garrets which contain all the elements of criminal romance and yet pass with the police and the press as matter of fact incidents of London's daily life The great river hides more mysteries than ever the Seine gave up to the Paris Morgue and many of them end with a little rest in a quiet mortuary a found drowned hand bill posted for a day or two on a police station notice board an inquest an open verdict and a pauper's funeral But among the victims have been men and women the story of whose doing to death would have thrilled the masses and the classes alike in some instances would have revealed the presence in our midst of active agents of the most desperate secret societies in the world There are no mysteries of modern London more terrible than its unrecorded ones There are disappearances that are never chronicled murders that are never discovered victims of foul play who go certified to the grave as having succumbed to natural causes

Newton and His Apple Murat Ugray,2024-12-04 Isaac Newton was a shy quiet boy growing up on a farm in England 300 years ago He was not a very good student and nobody paid much attention to him Nobody that is except the school bully One day the bully punched Isaac in the stomach That hurt and that got Isaac very mad He pulled himself up straight and fought back Isaac pushed the bully onto the ground and rubbed his face in the mud All the other kids hated the bully and came and cheered for Isaac So Isaac taught the bully a lesson but he wasn't satisfied with that Now that he knew he could fight better than the bully he wanted to prove that he could do anything better than the bully So he started paying attention to school and studying hard He was soon the top of his class proving he was smarter than the bully too Isaac Newton kept on studying and when he grew up he became a math professor at Cambridge University He discovered lots of important things and is one of the most famous scientists who ever lived But One day Isaac was reading a book under an apple tree on the farm An apple fell out of the tree bonk Ow Now for most people that would be the end of the story but not for Isaac Not for somebody who just couldn't stop asking why all the time Why did the apple fall out of the tree Does everything fall What makes things fall Can anything stop things from falling Are the sun moon and stars falling Why don't they ever hit the ground So many questions Newton spent many years answering these questions by thinking and doing experiments He made up the law of gravity According to this law everything pulled everything else to itself by a force called gravity How strong that force is depends on how heavy the things are and how close together This book telling this excellent biographic story very simple teaching and amazingly Boyhood of Jesus Anonymous,2024-12-07 TRY to be like JESUS The Bible tells of Jesus So gentle and so meek I'll try to be like Jesus In every word I speak For Jesus too was loving His words were always kind I'll try to be like Jesus In thought and word and mind I long to be like Jesus Who said I am the Truth Then I will give my heart to him Now in my early youth Lillian Payson THERE was once a time when there was no Christmas at all There were no beautiful Christmas trees and happy songs and stockings filled with presents No one shouted Merry Christmas or Christmas Gift No one told the sweet story of Jesus because Jesus had not come into the world and so there was no Christmas You see Christmas is Jesus birthday and before he came of course people could not keep his birthday You have heard of how wicked and unhappy the people were long ago Although God loved them and tried to make them do right they forgot about him and did so many naughty disobedient things that they were very miserable Then God sent a wonderful message to them He told them that some day he would send them his own Son who should be their King and teach them how to do right He said that his Son would come as a little child to grow up among them to love and help them God even told them what they should call this baby who was to be their King God said that Christ would be like a beautiful light showing them where to go It would be as though some people stumbling sorrowfully along a dark street should suddenly see a bright light shining ahead of them making everything cheerful and pleasant They would be joyful like people who gather in the harvest Jesus makes his children happy and he wants them to shine out and make others happy These people who were so unhappy before Jesus came were very glad to know that some day he would come They talked about him and waited a long long time before he came and brought Christmas light into the world Meditations Marcus Aurelius,2024-12-07 Such is the system which underlies the Meditations of Marcus Aurelius Some knowledge of it is necessary to the right understanding of the book but for us the chief interest lies elsewhere We do not come to Marcus Aurelius for a treatise on Stoicism He is no head of a school to lay down a body of doctrine for students he does not even contemplate that others should read what he writes His philosophy is not an eager intellectual inquiry but more what we should call religious feeling The uncompromising stiffness of Zeno or Chrysippus is softened and transformed by passing through a nature reverent and tolerant gentle and free from guile the grim resignation which made life possible to the Stoic sage becomes in him almost a mood of aspiration His book records the innermost thoughts of his heart set down to ease it with such moral maxims and reflections as may help him to bear the burden of duty and the countless annoyances of a busy life It is instructive to compare the Meditations with another famous book the Imitation of Christ There is the same ideal of self control in both It should be a man's task says the Imitation to overcome himself and every day to be stronger than himself In withstanding of the passions standeth very peace of heart Let us set the axe to the root that we being purged of our passions may have a peaceable mind To this end there must be continual self examination If thou may not continually gather thyself together namely sometimes do it at least once a day the morning or the evening In the morning purpose in the evening discuss the manner what thou hast been this day in word work and thought But while the Roman's temper is a modest self reliance the Christian aims at a more passive mood humbleness and meekness and reliance on the presence and personal friendship of God The Roman scrutinises his faults with severity but without the self contempt which makes the Christian vile in his own sight The Christian like the Roman bids study to withdraw thine heart from the love of things visible but it is not the busy life of duty he has in mind so much as the contempt of all worldly things and the cutting away of all lower delectations Both rate men's praise or blame at their real worthlessness Let not thy peace says the Christian be in the mouths of men But it is to God's censure the Christian appeals the Roman to his own soul The petty annoyances of injustice or unkindness are looked on by each with the same magnanimity Why doth a little thing said or done against thee make thee sorry It is no new thing it is not the first nor shall it be the last if thou live long At best suffer patiently if thou canst not suffer joyously The Christian should sorrow more for other men's malice than for our own wrongs but the Roman is inclined to wash his hands of the offender Study to be patient in suffering and bearing other men's defaults and all manner infirmities says the Christian but the Roman would never have thought to add If all men were perfect what had we then to suffer of other men for God The virtue of suffering in itself is an idea which does not meet us in the Meditations Both alike realise that man is one of a great community No man is sufficient to himself says the Christian we must bear together help together comfort together But while he sees a chief importance in zeal in exalted emotion that is and avoidance of lukewarmness the Roman thought mainly of the duty to be done as well as might be and less of the feeling which should go with the doing of it To the saint as to the emperor the world is a poor thing at best Verily it is a misery to live upon the earth says the Christian few and evil are the days of man's life which passeth away suddenly as a shadow
