Design of Effective Instagram Campaigns Carolin Wesche, 2020-04-28 Master's Thesis from the year 2018 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1-3 University of Münster Institute for Value Based Marketing language English abstract The following study investigates the influence of traditional design stimuli applied to a brand post on the consumer's engagement rate on Instagram Consumer engagement thereby represents the effectiveness of a brand post and is defined by the ratio of the number of likes of a brand post and the number of followers of the brand Aiming at analyzing the effectiveness of traditional design stimuli on Instagram the author gathers 450 Instagram brand posts from five different product categories which are subsequently assessed and coded The researcher then conducts a regression analysis as this allows to evaluate the influence of the traditional visual design stimuli on the consumer's engagement rate. Whereas novel cognitive demanding stimuli are not found to influence the engagement rate for a brand post, certain physically intensive prominent stimuli as well as some affective emotional stimuli have a significant influence. The present study further investigates the moderating effect of brand knowledge on the magnitude of the stimuli's influence on consumer engagement rate. The results indicate that brand knowledge has a moderating effect on certain stimuli. For all other stimuli, the influence on the engagement rate does not change for different levels of brand knowledge. The results further show that design stimuli applied in brand posts on Instagram differ in their impact on the engagement rate depending on the product category shown in the brand post. These findings can be used by managers to exploit the benefits of social media marketing on Instagram.

Times bestselling author of On the Other Side Warm hearted and hilarious Miranda Dickinson author of Our Story How Big-Tech Barons Smash Innovation—and How to Strike Back Ariel Ezrachi, Maurice E. Stucke, 2024-05-21 Two market experts deconstruct the drivers and inhibitors to innovation in the digital economy explain how large tech companies can stifle disruption assess the toll of their technologies on our well being and democracy and outline policy changes to take power away from big tech and return it to entrepreneurs Silicon Valley's genius combined with limited corporate regulation promised a new age of technological innovation in which entrepreneurs would create companies that would in turn fuel unprecedented job growth Yet disruptive innovation has stagnated even as the five leading tech giants which account for approximately 25 percent of the S P 500's market capitalization are expanding to unimaginable scale and power In How Big Tech Barons Smash Innovation and How to Strike Back Ariel Ezrachi and Maurice E Stucke explain why this is happening and what we can do to reverse it While many distrust the Big Tech Barons the prevailing belief is that innovation is thriving online It isn't Rather than disruptive innovations that create significant value we are getting technologies that primarily extract value and reduce well being Using vivid examples and relying on their work in the field the authors explain how the leading tech companies design their sprawling ecosystems to extract more profits while crushing any entrepreneur that poses a threat As a result we get less innovation that benefits us and more innovations that surpass the dreams of yesteryears autocracies The Tech Barons technologies which seek to decode our emotions and thoughts to better manipulate our behavior are undermining political stability and democracy while fueling tribalism and hate But it's not hopeless The authors reveal that sustained innovation scales with cities not companies and that we as a society should profoundly alter our investment strategy and priorities to certain entrepreneurs Tech Pirates and cities infrastructure
