Emotions Online Alan Petersen, 2022-12-30

Digital media have become deeply immersed in our lives, heightening both hopes and fears of their affordances. While the internet, mobile phones, and social media offer their users many options, they also engender concerns about their manipulations and intrusions. Emotions Online explores the visions that shape responses to media and the emotional regimes that govern people's engagements with them. This book critically examines evidence on the role of digital media in emotional life. Offering a sociological perspective and using ideas from science and technology studies and media studies, it explores the dimensions and operations of the online emotional economy. Growing concerns about online harms and abuse, especially to children, deepfakes, and other forms of image-based abuse. The role of hope in shaping online behaviours. Digital well-being and its market. COVID-19's impacts on perceptions of digital media and Big Tech. Growing challenges to centralised control of the internet and the implications for future emotional life. The book breaks new ground in the sociological study of digital media and the emotions. It reveals the dynamics of online emotional regimes, showing how deceptive designs and algorithm-driven technologies serve to attract and engage users. As it argues, digital media rely on the emotional labours of many people.
