Researching Subtitling Processes Anke Radinger, 2025-07-31 Subtitling is almost as old as the motion picture itself. It is a very specific form of translation that goes well beyond the transferring of written texts given that the source text the film is a complex combination of spoken and written text together with dynamic images, music, and sounds. But how does one read a film in order to translate it? In this volume, Anke Radinger investigates what happens in a subtitler's mind, especially in various working environments. An example of one of these conditions is the introduction of innovative assistive language tools such as AI-powered speech-to-text into traditional subtitling workflows. Using methods like eye tracking and keylogging, Radinger reviews computer or rather AI-assisted subtitling processes, practices, and workflows while concentrating on aspects such as effort and quality. Her work is a valuable contribution to subtitling process research. SPR, a young and greatly under-researched subfield of audiovisual translation.
