Curating Design Donna Loveday, 2022-08-11 Illustrated with contemporary case studies Curating Design provides a history of and introduction to design curatorial practice both within and outside the museum Donna Loveday begins by tracing the history of the collecting and display of designed objects in museums and exhibitions from the 19th century cabinet of curiosities to the present day design museum She then explores the changing role of the curator since the 1980s with curators becoming much more than just keepers of a collection with a remit to create narrative and experiential exhibitions as well as develop the museum's role as a space of learning for its visitors Curating as a practice now describes the production of a number of cultural and creative outputs ranging from exhibitions to art festivals shopping environments to health centres conferences to film programming as well as museums and galleries Loveday explores how design has come to the fore in curatorial practice with new design museums opening around the world as well as blockbusting exhibitions of fashion and popular culture Interviews with leading practitioners from international design and arts museums provide a spotlight on contemporary challenges and best practice in design curatorship

Ethics of Contemporary Collecting Jen Kavanagh, Ellie Miles, Rosamund Lily West, Susanna Cordner, 2024-10-09 Ethics of Contemporary Collecting addresses pressing and pertinent issues around ethical contemporary collecting reflecting on how practices are evolving or in flux Across three sections each containing live sector subjects from the climate crisis to digital collecting to centring communities this book collates a combination of case studies and in depth chapters by leading practitioners working in the field These pieces are instructive and provide practical transferable examples of how people have approached these challenges It highlights examples of leading practice in the field and illustrates ethical approaches to contemporary collecting as work in this area progresses and our conversations about it advance To reflect this ongoing growth the book closes with an Activations section of discussion prompts intended to keep the conversations and progress on individual institutional and societal levels going Ethics of Contemporary Collecting is an indispensable tool for informing training and educating the next generation of curators and collection professionals and inspiring future collecting projects

Anderson, Alan Butler, David Capener, Donal Lally, Clare Lyster, Fiona McDermott, 2021-07-21 Investigates how data production and consumption territorialize the physical landscape filtered through Ireland's role in global communications and as told by the Irish Pavilion at the 2021 Venice Architecture Biennale features an installation that focuses on the materiality of data infrastructure in space As our everyday lives become increasingly entangled with data technologies the book addresses the utopian fantasy that surrounds the Cloud as transcending physical presence or resourcing By bringing the physical infrastructure around data and its impact on the environment under the spotlight it hopes to reframe how we understand data production and highlight the myth that information technologies are hidden and without major material manifestations on the landscape The context for the book is Ireland which has a significant historical role in the evolution of global communications and data infrastructure In 1866 the world's first transatlantic telegraph cable landed on the West coast of Ireland In 1901 the inventor of the radio Guglielmo Marconi transmitted some of the world's first wireless radio messages from Ireland across the Atlantic Ocean to Newfoundland Today Dublin has overtaken London as the data centre hub of Europe hosting 25% of all available European server space And by the year 2027 data centres are forecast to consume a third of Ireland's total electricity demand The book aims to raise awareness around the hardware of the global internet and Cloud services which is interwoven with the Irish landscape made manifest through the vast constellation of data centres fibre optic cable networks and energy grids that have come to populate its cities and suburbs over recent decades The publication accompanies and supports Entanglement the Irish Pavilion at the 17th Venice Architecture Biennale by archiving the production of the pavilion filtered through a series of poetic excerpts that describe the form components content and furniture that make up the installation At the same time the book is conceived as more than just a catalog by positioning some of the cultural and spatial implications of data technologies in Ireland within a more universal context through contributions by ANNEX the team selected to produce the pavilion as well as invited contributors from the disciplines of Media Theory Journalism Computer Science Geography History and Architecture Fashion Remains Marco
