Makeology Kylie Peppler, Erica Halverson, Yasmin B. Kafai, 2016-05-20 Makeology introduces the emerging landscape of the Maker Movement and its connection to interest driven learning While the movement is fueled in part by new tools technologies and online communities available to today s makers its simultaneous emphasis on engaging the world through design and sharing with others harkens back to early educational predecessors including Froebel Dewey Montessori and Papert Makerspaces as Learning Environments Volume 1 focuses on making in a variety of educational ecosystems spanning nursery schools K 12 environments higher education museums and after school spaces Each chapter closes with a set of practical takeaways for educators researchers and parents Tinkering Curt Gabrielson, 2015-10-28 How can you consistently pull off hands on tinkering with kids How do you deal with questions that you can t answer How do you know if tinkering kids are learning anything or not Is there a line between fooling around with real stuff and learning The idea of learning through tinkering is not so radical From the dawn of time whenever humanity has wanted to know more we have achieved it most effectively by getting our hands dirty and making careful observations of real stuff Make Tinkering Kids Learn by Making Stuff lets you discover how why and even what it is to tinker and tinker well Author Curt Gabrielson draws on more than 20 years of experience doing hands on science to facilitate tinkering learning science while fooling around with real things This book shows you how to make A drum set from plastic bottles tape and shrink wrap Magnetic toys that dance sway and amaze Catapults ball launchers and table top basketball A battery powered magic wand and a steadiness game don t touch the sides Chemical reactions with household items Models of bones and tendons that work like real arms and ankles Spin art machine and a hovercraft from a paper plate Lifelong learners hungry for their next genuine experience

Creating Makers Megan Egbert, 2016-07-18 This book shows you how even with a tight budget and limited space you can foster maker mentality in your library and help patrons reap the learning benefits of making with or without a makerspace Just because your library is small or limited on funds doesn t mean you can t be part of the maker movement This book explains that what is really important about the movement is not the space but the creativity innovation and resilience that go along with a successful maker program All it takes is making some important changes to a library s programs services and collections to facilitate the maker mentality in their patrons and this book shows you how The author explains what a maker is why this movement is important and how making fits in with educational initiatives such as STEM and STEAM as well as with library service Her book supplies practical advice for incorporating the principles of the maker movement into library services how to use small spaces or mobile spaces to accommodate maker programs creating passive maker programs providing access to making through circulating maker tools partnering with other organizations hosting maker faires and more Readers will better understand their instructional role in cultivating makers by human centered design thinking open source and shared learning and implementation of an inquiry approach Free to Make Dale Dougherty, 2016-09-27 A fascinating study of the global Maker Movement that explores how making impacts our personal and social development perfect for enthusiastic DIY ers Dale Dougherty creator of MAKE magazine and the Maker Faire provides a guided tour of the international phenomenon known as the Maker Movement a social revolution that is changing what gets made how it s made where it s made and who makes it Free to Make is a call to join what Dougherty calls the renaissance of making an invitation to see ourselves as creators and shapers of the world around us As the internet thrives and world changing technologies like 3D printers and tiny microcontrollers become increasingly affordable people around the world are moving away from the passivity of one size fits all consumption and command and control models of education and business Free to Make explores how making revives abandoned and neglected urban areas reinvigorates community spaces like libraries and museums and even impacts our personal and social development fostering a mindset that is engaged playful and resourceful Free to Make asks us to imagine a world where making is an everyday occurrence in our schools workplaces and local communities
