After Difference Paolo Heywood, 2018-02-19 Queer activism and anthropology are both fundamentally concerned with the concept of difference Yet they are so in fundamentally different ways The Italian queer activists in this book value difference as something that must be produced in opposition to the identity politics they find around them Conversely anthropologists find difference in the world around them and seek to produce an identity between anthropological theory and the ethnographic material it elucidates This book describes problems faced by an activist politics of difference and issues concerning the identity of anthropological reflection itself connecting two conceptions of difference whilst simultaneously holding them apart The Vatican Versus Horror Movies Matt Rogerson, 2025-02-14 Since public audiences were first introduced to the medium of film in 1895 the Catholic Church has sought to impose its will on the distribution and exhibition of movies These activities include the fortnightly publication of the Segnalazioni Cinematografiche which passed Catholic moral judgment on every film released In this pamphlet and in other settings no set of filmmakers has invited the ire of the Vatican as much as those working in the genres of horror and exploitation At times filmmakers have responded in kind attacking the Catholic church directly and indirectly presenting clergy as outright antagonists and shining a light on the Vatican's crimes past and present including its collusion with fascism Translating the judgments of the Segnalazioni Cinematografiche into English for the first time and juxtaposing them with film content and social and historical context this book presents in full the cultural conflict between the Vatican and horror movies The Encyclopedia of Female

Grogan, 2020-04-22 Though the subject of classical reception in early modern Europe is a familiar one modern scholarship has tended to assume the dominance of Greece and Rome in engagements with the classical world during that period The essays in this volume aim to challenge this prevailing view by arguing for the significance and familiarity of the ancient near east to early modern Europe establishing the diversity and expansiveness of the classical world known to authors like Shakespeare and Montaigne in what we now call the global Renaissance However global Renaissance studies has tended to look away from classical reception exacerbating the blind spot around the significance of the ancient near east for early modern Europe Yet this wider classical world supported new modes of humanist thought and unprecedented cross cultural encounters as well as informing new forms of writing such as travel writing and antiquarian treatises in many cases and befitting its Herodotean origins the ancient near east raises questions of travel empire religious diversity cultural relativism and the history of European culture itself in ways that prompted detailed engaging and functional responses by early modern readers and writers Bringing together a range of approaches from across the fields of classical studies history and comparative literature this volume seeks both to emphasize the transnational interdisciplinary and interrogative nature of classical reception and to make a compelling case for the continued relevance of the texts concepts and materials of the ancient near east specifically to early modern culture and scholarship
