do we balance self interest and serving others What activities bring us the most joy While religion literature popular psychology and everyday wisdom all grapple with these questions philosophy more than anything else uses the tools of reason to make important distinctions cut away irrelevancies and distill these issues down to their essentials Hurka argues that if we are to live a good life one thing we need to know is which activities and experiences will most likely lead us to happiness and which will keep us from it while also reminding us that happiness isn't the only thing that makes life good Hurka explores many topics four types of good feeling and the limits of good feeling how we can improve our baseline level of happiness making more money it turns out isn't the answer which kinds of knowledge are most worth having the importance of achieving worthwhile goals the value of love and friendship and much more Unlike many philosophers he stresses that there isn't just one good in life but many pleasures as Epicurus argued is indeed one but knowledge as Socrates contended is another as is achievement And while the great philosophers can help us understand what matters most in life Hurka shows that we must ultimately decide for ourselves This delightfully accessible book offers timely guidance on answering the most important question any of us will ever ask How do we live a good life

Home Movies Claire Jenkins, 2015-04-06 The American family has long been at the centre of the typical Hollywood narrative But the depiction of the nuclear family within contemporary mainstream US cinema has not yet been closely studied Home Movies addresses this oversight by assessing recent cinematic representations of the family in terms of cultural politics and representations of gender sexuality race and class Focusing on a diverse range of popular films from Meet the Parents to The Incredibles Claire Jenkins analyses the father daughter relationship within sequels and series Meryl Streep's embodiment of the mother the superhero family and extraordinary manifestations of the ordinary family disaster films which depict the president as father mom coms and Hollywood's representations of the non traditional family She combines film studies gender studies and family history to demonstrate the complexities of Hollywood's family values

Paul Diederich and the Progressive American High School Robert L. Hampel, 2014-04-01 Paul Diederich worked in five new organizations dedicated to transforming American schools the Ohio State University lab school the Eight Year Study a Harvard institute to revamp English language instruction the University of Chicago's Board of Examiners and the Educational Testing Service Throughout his career he wrote critiques of American high schools and set forth many proposals to make them more flexible without sacrificing academic excellence This anthology resurrects 14 Diederich essays eight of them never before published The scope ranges from visions of social justice to the details of the daily schedule Like his heroes Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson he combined a passion for utopian speculation with a fascination for practical problems a combination that is rare in the world of school reform today
