Turow, 2021-05-18 Your voice as biometric data and how marketers are using it to manipulate you Only three decades ago it was inconceivable that virtually entire populations would be carrying around wireless phones wherever they went or that people's exact locations could be tracked by those devices We now take both for granted Even just a decade ago the idea that individuals' voices could be used to identify and draw inferences about them as they shopped or interacted with retailers seemed like something out of a science fiction novel Yet a new business sector is emerging to do exactly that The first in-depth examination of the voice intelligence industry The Voice Catchers exposes how artificial intelligence is enabling personalized marketing and discrimination through voice analysis Amazon and Google have numerous patents pertaining to voice profiling and even now their smart speakers are extracting and using voice prints for identification and more Customer service centers are already approaching every caller based on what they conclude a caller's voice reveals about that person's emotions sentiments and personality often in real time In fact many scientists believe that a person's weight height age and race not to mention any illnesses they may have can also be identified from the sound of that individual's voice Ultimately not only marketers but also politicians and governments may use voice profiling to infer personal characteristics for selfish interests and not for the benefit of a citizen or of society as a whole Leading communications scholar Joseph Turow places the voice intelligence industry in historical perspective explores its contemporary developments and offers a clarion call for regulating this rising surveillance regime Supply Chain Analytics Peter W. 350 commonly used abbreviations Subject classification index lists terms by topic Spanish key terms help both ESL students and those who will be working with ESL customers Textile Legend Unravels Dr. Rajaram Jaipuria, The story of my life essentially focuses on how politics destroyed an assiduously built industrial empire how I fought a long but unsuccessful legal battle for getting my textile mills back and how I eventually succeeded in reinventing life in the very industry I always loved The origin of the House of Jaipurias dates back to 1914 when my father Seth Mungturamji Jaipuria left our native town of Nawalgarh in Rajasthan to travel to Kolkata earlier Calcutta which was then India's industrial and commercial hub and had been its official capital till 1911 Delhi then acquired that privilege I have tried to explain the evolution of the Jaipuria Group as well as of the Indian textile industry in as lucid a manner as I could I hope the young entrepreneurs as well as the students of management apart from the public at large would find my narrative educative and if I may say so inspiring I hope this book would not only help the younger generation understand India's industrial history and the roots of its own entrepreneurial abilities but would also inspire some of the few remaining entrepreneurs of my generation to record their life histories and share their rich experience besides warning present and future governments about the dangers of unnecessary meddling in affairs of industry and trade
