Motivating Language Learners Modern Language In Practice:

Motivating Language Learners Gary N. Chambers, 1999-01-01 This book is informed by pupils' perceptions of the foreign language learning experience, attitudes brought from primary school, from home visits abroad, the classroom. What are the implications of these for teachers? The author provides practical strategies to enhance the enjoyment of the in-class experience and the status of modern languages on the curriculum.

The Palgrave Handbook of Motivation for Language Learning Martin Lamb, Kata Csizér, Alastair Henry, Stephen Ryan, 2020-01-11 This handbook offers an authoritative one-stop reference work for the dynamic and expanding field of language learning motivation. The 32 chapters have been specially commissioned from the field's most influential researchers and writers. Together they present a compelling picture of the motivations people have for learning languages, the diverse ways we can research motivation and the implications for promoting and sustaining learners' motivation. The first section outlines the main theoretical approaches to language learning motivation; the next section presents ways in which motivation theory has been applied in practice; the third section showcases examples of motivation research in particular contexts and with particular types of language learners; and the final section describes the exciting directions that contemporary research is taking, promising important new insights for academics and practitioners alike.

How to Teach Modern Languages-- and Survive! Jan Pleuger, 2001 This book sets out some of the practical techniques Jan Pleuger has used with children of all ages and abilities, and most of the ideas can also be applied to adult learners. These practical strategies are aimed at reducing both pupil and teacher anxiety and provides a deep understanding of the psychological dynamics of the modern language classroom. The result is an enjoyable book, entertainingly written and bursting with tips for busy Modern Language teachers.

New Perspectives on Teaching and Learning Modern Languages Simon Green, 2000-01-01 This exciting new publication featuring chapters from some of the foremost practitioners in the field of modern languages today, closely examines research-based analysis, structural contexts and classroom practice in teaching and learning. After analysing the current situation, each author proposes radical solutions to current problems, and the whole book provides much needed fresh thinking on methodology and pedagogy.

Foreign Language and Culture Learning from a Dialogic Perspective Carol Morgan, Albane Cain, 2000 This book analyses an intercultural project undertaken by French and English 14-year-olds based on an exchange of materials created by the pupils and focused on the topic of law and order. The project was based on a view of learning as a dialogic process interacting with others. A first language and home culture is acquired through such interaction. This project sought to realise this dialogic process in a more meaningful way than is often the case in foreign language classrooms.

Teaching and Researching Motivation Zoltán Dörnyei, Ema Ushioda, 2021-04-21 Cultivating motivation is crucial to a language learner's success and therefore crucial for the language teacher and researcher to understand. The third edition of Teaching and Researching Motivation reflects the dramatic changes in the field of motivation research. With an increased emphasis on dynamic perspectives on motivation and its relations with other individual social and contextual factors this book offers ways in which advances in the field can be put to practical use in the classroom and in research Key new features and material exploration of the motivation to learn languages other than English LOTE principles for designing L2 motivational studies discussion of emerging areas of research including unconscious motivation and language learning mindsets Providing a clear and comprehensive theory driven account of motivation Teaching and Researching Motivation examines how theoretical insights can be used in everyday teaching practice The final section provides a range of useful resources including relevant websites key reference works and an online repository of tools and instruments for researching language learning motivation Fully revised by pre eminent researchers in this field Zolt n D rnyei and Ema Ushioda this is an invaluable resource for teachers and researchers alike

Teaching and Researching: Autonomy in Language Learning Phil Benson, 2013-11-04 Autonomy has become a keyword of language policy in education systems around the world as the importance of independent learning and new technologies has grown Now in a fully revised and updated second edition Teaching and Researching Autonomy provides an accessible and comprehensive critical account of the theory and practice of autonomy Examining the history of the concept it addresses important questions of how we can identify autonomy in language learning behaviours and how we can evaluate the wide variety of educational practices that have been designed to foster autonomy in learning Topics new to this edition include Autonomy and new technologies Teacher autonomy The sociocultural implications of autonomy With over three hundred new references and five new case studies of research on autonomy providing practical advice on research methods and topics in the field Teaching and Researching Autonomy will be an essential introduction for teachers and students to a subject at the cutting edge of language teaching and research
