My Perfect Match A.M. Vivienne, 2021-01-28 It's February Danielle Fulson's favorite month of the year She's a vibrant soul never afraid to wear her heart on her sleeve This year she can't wait to plan her annual Valentine's Day party and find the perfect dates for all her friends Her first love match is between Elijah and Isabella a laid back sound technician and a jet setting beauty While she's certain this matchup is one for the ages there's a creeping doubt in the back of her mind that she's not ready to address yet Along with her Cupid responsibilities she's starting a new dog walking business Lucky for her this means she'll meet a date of her own a handsome artist named Martin Bonding over their love of positive energy creativity and their pet dogs Danielle falls head over heels She knows she's a cliché but when you know you know right As the 14th approaches her party transforms into something more than she expected Unfortunately she questions if Martin is truly the one for her And what is up with her conflicting emotions about Elijah and Isabella finally getting along With her cocker spaniel Coco Puff by her side is she ready to face the truth about why she's been feeling disappointed by her favorite holiday

, Rascally Signs in Sacred Places David E. Whisnant, 2000-11-09 David Whisnant provides a comprehensive analysis of the dynamic relationship between culture power and policy in Nicaragua over the last 450 years Spanning a broad spectrum of popular and traditional expressive forms including literature music film and broadcast media the book explores the evolution of Nicaraguan culture its manipulation for political purposes and the opposition to cultural policy by a variety of marginalized social and regional groups Within the historical narrative of cultural change over time Whisnant skillfully discusses important case studies of Nicaraguan cultural politics the consequences of the unauthorized removal of archaeological treasures from the country in the nineteenth century the perennial attempts by political factions to capitalize on the reputation of two venerated cultural figures poet Rubén Darío and rebel General Augusto C. Sandino and the ongoing struggle by Nicaraguan women for liberation from traditional gender relations Originally published in 1995 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value Let's Log In 10 Sehgal Nancy, 2003-09

The Great Movies IV Roger Ebert, 2020-03-04 Essays from the influential and beloved film critic No one has done as much as Ebert to connect the creators of movies with their consumers Richard Corliss Time Over more than four decades Roger Ebert built a reputation writing reviews for the Chicago Sun Times and later arguing onscreen with rival Chicago Tribune critic Gene Siskel and later Richard Roeper about the movies they loved and loathed But Ebert's wisdom went well beyond a mere thumbs up or thumbs down The Great Movies IV is the fourth and final collection of Roger Ebert's essays comprising sixty-two reviews of films ranging from the silent era to the recent past From films like The Cabinet of Caligari and Viridiana that have been considered canonical for decades to movies only recently recognized as masterpieces to

Superman The Big Lebowski and Pink Floyd The Wall the pieces gathered here demonstrate the critical acumen seen in Ebert's daily reviews and the more reflective and wide ranging considerations that the longer format allowed him to offer Also included are an insightful foreword by film critic Matt Zoller Seitz editor in chief of the official Roger Ebert website and a touching introduction by Chaz Ebert A fitting capstone to a truly remarkable career The Great Movies IV will introduce newcomers to some of the most exceptional movies ever made while revealing new insights to connoisseurs
