Midland Poems Hollis Summers Poetry Prize:

Midland Kwame Dawes, 2000-12-01 The winning manuscript of the fourth annual Hollis Summers Poetry Prize is also the exciting American debut by a poet who has already established himself as an important international poetic voice Midland the seventh collection by Kwame Dawes draws deeply on the poet's travels and experiences in Africa the Caribbean England and the American South Marked equally by a lushness of imagery an urgency of tone and a muscular rhythm Midland in the words of the final judge Eavan Boland is a powerful testament of the complexity pain and enrichment of inheritance It is a compelling meditation on what is given and taken away in the acts of generation and influence Of a father's example and his oppression There are different places throughout the book They come willfully in and out of the poems Jamaica London Africa America But all the places become one place in the central theme and undersong here which is displacement The achievement of this book is a beautifully crafted voice which follows the painful and vivid theme of homelessness in and out of the mysteries of loss and belonging Midland is the work of a keen and transcendent intellect a collection of poems that speaks to the landscape from inside from an emotional and experiential place of risk and commitment Bruised Totems

Kwame Senu Neville Dawes, 2004 Terra Incognita Sara Henning, 2022-03-25 These masterful elegies follow the contours of a troubled mother daughter relationship explore the paradoxes of mourning and relish the complicated joys of perseverance to map not only how one makes sense of the world but also how one reenters it after experiencing a transformative loss Divided into four sections this poignant collection begins with Terra Inferna which chronicles a single mother's attempt to raise her daughter in 1980s rural Georgia Terra Incognita follows the daughter's journey across states out of devastating poverty and into a loving marriage as her mother loses her battle with colon cancer In Terra Nova the speaker meditates on her mother's passing her crisis of meaning turning to revelation of legacy's love Terra Firma brings closure as the speaker reconciles her grief while rediscovering how to find joy in life's small moments Penumbra

Michael Shewmaker, 2017-02-15 Penumbra Michael Shewmaker's debut collection explores the half shadows of a world torn between faith and doubt From intricate descriptions of the rooms in a dollhouse to the stark depiction of a chapel made of bones from pre-elegies for a ghostly father to his compelling treatment of his obsessed human characters a pastor a tattoo artist a sleepwalker to name only a few these are poems that wrestle with what it means to believe in something beyond one's own mortality Learned and formally adept these poems consist of equal parts praise and despair They announce Shewmaker as an important new voice in American poetry Larks

Han VanderHart, 2025-03-11 The core of Larks is rural and mythic and true existential and domestic tender while full of sharp grief and documentation Circling genealogies of silence and harm in a southern family Larks centers on the relationship and memories of three sisters and Ovid's telling of Philomel In a landscape inhabited as much by farm animals cows goats chickens and barn kittens as by the family the lyric poem parses and articulates the self's history from the experience of a sister's home birth to the traumatic erasure and recovery of the speaker's memory A work of poetic memoir Larks asks if poetry can hold the heaviest truths we carry The answer is a resounding yes Retribution Forthcoming Katie Berta, 2024-03-12 Influenced by Alice Notley Eileen Myles Rachel Zucker and other poets of the New York school the poems in Retribution Forthcoming blend a talky quick funny voice with candid examinations of gender norms class pressures and the existential Their speaker explores her mortality anxiety through her experiences of gendered exploitation reflecting on bodily autonomy and the nexus of violences that women face Using oblique and direct strategies these poems recount sexual coercion the ways consumerist society reinforces and reifies gender conformity and performativity and the psychological ramifications of these abuses of power Retribution Forthcoming examines selfhood consciousness and mortality as they intertwine with our identities and the ways those identities are politicized At its core though this book is an account of sexual assault and its aftermath exploring how trauma interacts with belief and our ability to trust others and ourselves On the Desire to Levitate Alison Powell, 2014-03-01 On the Desire to Levitate is the first collection of poems by Alison Powell This striking collection includes vivid unflinching meditations on aging mythology poetry and family In tight elegant lines that alternate between homage and elegy these poems explore known subjects with a rebellious eye a defeated Hercules and a bitter Eurydice a sympathetic Lucifer and generations of adolescent girls as mythical adventurers moving within a beloved but confining Midwest Yet in Powell's skillful hands hardship never overtakes as judge Charles Hood writes There's often a delicious humor in this work and always a deep and lasting integrity Animal Purpose Michelle Y. Burke, 2016-03-15 In Animal Purpose Michelle Y Burke explores the lives of men and women as they stand poised between the desire to love and the compulsion to harm In one poem a woman teaches a farmhand the proper way to slaughter a truckload of chickens In another a couple confronts the recent loss of a loved one when a stranger makes an unexpected confession in a crowded restaurant Set in both rural and urban spaces these poems challenge received ideas about work gender and place Danger blurs into beauty and back again Burke scours the hard edges of the world to find fleeting softness which she wishes into the world like pollen that covers everything International Who's Who in Poetry 2005 Europa Publications, 2004 Provides up to date profiles on the careers of leading and emerging poets Intrusive Beauty Joseph J. Capista, 2019-03-12 Joseph J Capista's Intrusive Beauty reckons with reluctant ecstasy and the improbable forms that beauty assumes In this powerful debut Capista traverses earth and ether to yield poems that elucidate the space between one's life and one's livelihood While its landscapes range from back alley Baltimore to the Bitterroot Valley this book remains close to unbidden beauty and its capacity to sway one's vision of the world Whether a young father who won't lower the volume on the radio or a Victorian farm boy tasked with scaring birds from seed sown furrows the inhabitants of Intrusive Beauty are witness to the startling ease with which one's assorted lives come in time to comprise a singular life Mortality love duty desire an acute longing for transcendence here old themes resound anew as they're uttered in a multiplicity of forms and means holding fast always to the heart The Surface of the Lit World Shane

Seely,2015-03-15 In The Surface of the Lit World Shane Seely draws on a wide range of sources from personal memory to biblical narrative to explore the stories that we tell ourselves about ourselves the ways in which we make meaning of our lives Seely delves into the ways in which family and environment shape us Poems ranging from terse meditative lyrics to more direct narratives examine the relationship between what lies visible on the lit surface and what lies just beneath In addition to first person autobiographical narratives there are ekphrastic poems poems that explore narratives from mythology and religion and poems based on news reports radio stories and audio recordings Regardless of the approach the central questions are the same How do we sense the world we live in What do the institutions to which we turn for meaning family religion art literature science offer us and in what ways do they fail us The answers may depend on where we dare to look

Doubtful Harbor Idris Anderson,2018-03-02 In Doubtful Harbor Idris Anderson turns wandering into art From large landscapes to the minutest details she seeks with each poem to convey the world more clearly acutely and exquisitely As she meditates on indelible moments with intimate others friends and strangers she teases from these encounters their elusive connections and disconnections As Sherod Santos wrote when selecting the book for the Hollis Summers Poetry Prize These are not the journeys of a tourist but of a wandering solitaire whose purpose is not to maintain a travelogue but to lose herself in the otherness of her surroundings Doubt is itself a driving force here an engine of both questing and questioning As exact as Anderson's eye is her poems draw energy from ambiguity as she renders interior and exterior landscapes foreign and domestic lovely and littered familiar and strange

Flying through a Hole in the Storm Fleda Brown,2021-03-12 A keenly observant collection of poems on disaster aging and apocalypse Golda Meir once said Old age is like a plane flying through a storm Once you're aboard there's nothing you can do The poems in Fleda Brown's brave collection her thirteenth take readers on a journey through the fury of this storm There are plenty of tragedies to weather here both personal and universal the death of a father a child's terminal cancer the extinction of bees and environmental degradation Brown's poems are wise honest and deeply observant meditations on contemporary science physics family politics and aging With tributes to visionary artists including Frida Kahlo Pablo Picasso and Grandma Moses as well as to life's terrors sadnesses and joys these works are beautiful dispatches from a renowned poet who sees the shadows lengthening and imagines what they might look like from the other side

The Audible and the Evident Julie Hanson,2020-02-18 In this Julie Hanson's second award winning book the poems inscribe deep stillness on a world of harmonies in motion Whether composed on modern objects say a vacuum part pet part sculpture sprawled awkwardly still shrieking that evokes a sudden onrush of sobbing or the notional movement between a plastic bag a lawn and a return from a France not yet visited these poems circulate among the senses as moments that pass and are recalled Hanson's poems investigate interiority as they resonate in the ear to excite the eye Together her poems illustrate the movement between and among seasons and tasks work and leisure solitude and people and all through the private life as it intersects with the products and noises of industry and nature Hanson's is a poetic realm that includes the head splitting bright white screamings of an Indy 500 race into a zen garden this realm we all inhabit where birdsong and squeaky water meters improvise together Sprawl Andrew Collard,2023-03-28 These lyrical poems about growing up and becoming a parent in Detroit reflect deeply felt connections to places and experiences that inevitably fall victim to irrevocable change Sprawl is a reconstruction of the constantly shifting landscape of metropolitan Detroit which extends over six counties and is home to over four million people from the perspective of a single parent raising a young child amid financial precarity Part memoir part invention the book is Andrew Collard s attempt to reconcile the tenderness and sense of purpose found in the parent child relationship with ongoing societal crises in the empire of the automobile Here a mansion may contrast with a burned out home just up the street How does one construct a sense of place in such a landscape where once familiar neighborhoods turn to strip malls or empty lots and the relationships that root us dissolve Sprawl suggests that there is solace in recognizing that when we ask this question we are never alone in asking Within the larger geographical space of the metropolis are the in between places of personal significance the gas stations burger joints malls and parking lots where many of the defining moments of ordinary lives occur These poems take deep inspiration from such places insisting on the value of the people found there along with their experiences What might be considered high and low culture are as inextricably linked in the formal cues of the poems as they are in the Michigan landscape influenced by pop music midcentury modern aesthetics comic books and cars While the sprawl of the title refers to the seemingly endless succession of businesses and neighborhoods extending north from Detroit a sprawl this extensive breeds empty pockets it also invokes the sprawl of history through poems that move between the past and present One sequence of poems built on old newspaper clippings draws attention to a Chrysler plant that once constructed Redstone missiles Elsewhere two poems refer to the Detroit newspaper strike of the 1990s a local controversy with lasting implications for the community Sprawl ultimately illuminates the relationship of one place to other places contextualizing its characters and locales within a wider societal frame The Creole Ghost Seanna Sumalee Oakley,2002 The South Carolina Encyclopedia Guide to South Carolina Writers Tom Mack,2014-01-30 The South Carolina Encyclopedia Guide to South Carolina Writers expands the range of writers included in the landmark South Carolina Encyclopedia This guide updates the entries on writers featured in the original encyclopedia and augments that list substantially with dozens of new essays on additional authors from the late eighteenth century to the present who have contributed to the Palmetto State s distinctive literary heritage Each profile in this concise reference includes essential biographical facts and critical assessments to place the featured writers in the larger context of South Carolina s literary tradition The guide comprises 128 entries written by more than sixty nine literary scholars and it also highlights the sixty nine writers inducted thus far into the South Carolina Academy of Authors which serves as the state s literary hall of fame Rich in natural beauty and historic complexity South Carolina has long been a source of inspiration for writers The talented novelists essayists poets playwrights journalists historians and other writers featured here represent the countless individuals who have shared tales and lore of South Carolina The guide includes a foreword by George Singleton author of two novels four short story collections and one nonfiction book and a 2010 inductee of the South Carolina Academy of Authors New & Selected Poems, 1994-2002 Kwame Senu Neville Dawes, 2003 Since Kwame Dawes published his Forward Poetry prize winning Progeny of Air in 1994 six further collections have followed which have had a huge impact on Caribbean poetry This collection contains a generous selection from all these volumes showing the breadth and depth of Dawes achievement Awards, Honors and Prizes Gale Group, 2001-07 International Who's Who of Authors and Writers 2004 Europa Publications, 2003 Accurate and reliable biographical information essential to anyone interested in the world of literature The International Who's Who of Authors and Writers offers invaluable information on the personalities and organizations of the literary world including many up and coming writers as well as established names With over 8 000 entries this updated edition features Concise biographical information on novelists authors playwrights columnists journalists editors and critics Biographical details of established writers as well as those who have recently risen to prominence Entries detailing career works published literary awards and prizes membership and contact addresses where available An extensive listing of major international literary awards and prizes and winners of those prizes A directory of major literary organizations and literary agents A listing of members of the American Academy of Arts and Letters
