COMPARE & CONTRAST

Directions: Read both sections below. Compare and contrast the two animals.

DOLPHINS

A dolphin is a warm-blooded mammal that lives in the ocean. Dolphins give birth to babies that are called calves. They also breathe oxygen. A dolphin must live near the surface where it can breathe air. Dolphins are known to be vocal and social animals. They swim in pods where they come together with their mates to travel. Dolphins have a dorsal fin on their back, two fins on their side, and a tail. They also have a blowhole on top of their body. Their tail is horizontal and is used to swim in an up-and-down motion. A dolphin will eat things like fish, crustaceans, squid and shrimp.

SHARKS

Sharks are cold-blooded fish that live in the ocean. They spend their whole lives deep underwater. Like other fish, sharks have gills to remove oxygen from the environment. Sharks prefer to live and hunt alone. They do not like to socialize with other sharks. Sharks have a dorsal fin on their back, two fins on their side, and a tail. They also have gills on the side of their body. Their tail is vertical and is used to swim in a side-to-side motion. A shark will eat things like fish, crustaceans, squid, shrimp, other sharks, marine mammals, and plankton.

Schooling, Skills, and the Returns to Government Investment in Education Paul Glewwe,1991 Investments in schooling are often regarded as essential for economic development which implies that such investments have high rates of return in developing countries This paper examines the accuracy and usefulness of estimates of rates of return to formal schooling based on the standard human capital model of Becker and Mincer Regarding accuracy it investigates whether failure to account for differences in ability and school quality across a random sample significantly biases estimates of the private return to schooling derived from estimates of wage equations This is done using an unusually rich data set from Ghana When years of schooling are used to measure the accumulation of human capital there are virtually no returns to schooling in the private sector Replacement of years of schooling by reading and mathematical ability does show positive returns to acquired skills However these rates of return may be of little use to governments when making schooling investment decisions because such decisions are much more complex than the investment decisions of individuals In particular many government investments in education are designed to raise rates of return to schooling by raising school quality but decisions by individuals assume that both rates of return and school quality are exogenous
