Withrow, Menachem Wecker, 2014-07-10 Even casual acquaintances of the Bible know that the Truth shall set you free but in the pursuit of that Truth in higher education particularly in Christian or Jewish seminaries there are often many casualties suffered along the way What happens when faculty and students at religious academies butt heads with senior staff or dare to question dogmas or sacred cows that the institution cherishes Consider No Evil examines seminaries affiliated with two faith traditions Christian and Jewish and explores the challenges as well as prospective solutions confronting those religious academies when they grapple with staying true to their traditions as they interpret them while providing an arena that incubates honest and serious scholarship Data User News, 1986 Data User News United States. PhDs in academia have long signaled a grave need for reform within a profession that as Rosenberg ruefully acknowledges lacks organizational flexibility depends greatly on reputation and ranking and retains traditions from the academic calendar to grading systems that have remained essentially the same for decades Rosenberg looks outside the U S system to find possible antidotes in innovative higher education models such as student centered and experiential learning approaches This thought provoking work offers ample evidence for presidents chancellors deans provosts and faculty to consider as they plan their missions to achieve institutional transformation
