For readers of Kiese Laymon's Heavy and Hanif Abdurraqib's A Little Devil in America, a beautiful, painful, and soaring tribute to everything that Black men are and can be. Growing up in the Bronx, Joél Leon was taught that being soft, being vulnerable, could end your life. Shaped by a singular view of Black masculinity espoused by the media, family, and friends.

and society he learned instead to care about the gold around his neck and the number of bills in his wallet He absorbed the facts that white was always right and that Black men were either threatening or great for comic relief but never worthy of the opening credits It wasn't until years later that Jo l understood he didn't have to be defined by these and other stereotypes Now in a collection of wide ranging essays he takes readers from his upbringing in the Bronx to his life raising two little girls of his own unraveling those narratives to arrive at a deeper understanding of who he is as a son friend partner and father Traversing both the serious and the lighthearted from contemplating male beauty standards to his decision to seek therapy to the difficulties of making co parenting work Jo l cracks open his heart to reveal his multitudes In this book crafted like an album each essay is a single that stands alone yet reverberates throughout the entire collection Pieces like How to Make a Black Friend consider challenging delightful and absurd moments in relationships while others like Sensitive Thugs You All Need Hugs and All Gold Everything ponder the collective harms of society's lens With incisive searing prose Everything and Nothing at Once deconstructs what it means to be a Black man in America

Musicking TikTok Juan Bermúdez, 2024-12-12 This ethnographic work about TikTok's musicking in a glocal Austrian context complements and builds upon ethnomusicological assumptions, theories, and methods for the study of musical practices in digital spaces. An overview of elements that make up TikTok's interface as well as the technical performative possibilities that it allows, this book introduces a general categorization of existing performance types and how TikTokers appropriate the platform to make their music. It illustrates how some TikTokers became aware of and began using TikTok and it reviews some of the different strategies TikTokers apply to learn how to use the application and successfully develop their performances. Bermúdez explores how performers move from being ordinary users to becoming TikTokers, developing and performing an identity he calls TikTok Persona. Moreover, he discusses how some TikTok practices can and have occurred across multiple interconnected platforms and he examines how localities are articulated and negotiated in these contexts. Bermúdez argues for an understanding of musicking as a multimedia practice that different actors create and experience individually in everyday synchronous and asynchronous physical and digital situations. The so-called TikTokers create a sense of identity and community through their performances. This study suggests that a digital performance can be aside from a representation of reality, an integral part of it, serving as a fundamental space for constructing and performing identity.
