Subversion of Romance in the Novels of Barbara Pym Ellen M. Tsagaris, 1998 Points out how British novelist Pym 1913-80 parodied the conventions of romance novels by deflating characters' hyperbole and exaggeration or emphasizing meticulously the mundane elements of everyday life. Shows how she used food, clothes, heroin, and hero characterizations and marriage customs to portray her characters and perhaps her own skepticism about the whole business. Paper edition 764 018 95. Will she ever meet the man who loves and understands her? The Man of the Desert When weary and tired Hazel Radcliffe falls off her horse in the unforgiving weather of Arizona she is nursed back to her health by John Brownleigh a missionary Soon enough both of them develop feelings for each other but never succeed in confessing it Will they get separated for ever or has fate other plans for these two A Voice in the Wilderness Margaret Earle a young school teacher accidently gets down on a wrong platform and finds herself lost in the wilderness of Arizona Alone and helpless she pins her hope on a man to help her but it soon backfires and Margaret finds herself running away in sheer desperation But what will happen when her path will cross with Lance Gardley the handsome cowboy

New Perspectives on Bare Noun Phrases in Romance and Beyond

Johannes Kabatek,Albert Wall,2013-11-15 This book envisions the study of bare noun phrases as a field of research in its own right rather than an accessory matter in the wider domain of nominal determination Combining insights from different theoretical backgrounds and extending the empirical coverage of bare noun phenomena the ten contributions provide new perspectives on long standing but still actively debated problems as well as investigations into previously ignored issues The volume focuses on the wide range of bare noun phenomena in Romance languages including Spanish Catalan Brazilian and European Portuguese Italian and French but also widens its inherently comparative perspective to languages such as Bulgarian and Modern Hebrew The authors discuss the importance of cross linguistic patterns in the modeling of the syntax and semantics of noun phrases and of common noun denotations the role of information structure as well as that of discourse traditions and coordination

The Heroines of English Pastoral Romance Sue P. Starke, 2007 The figure of the woman as hero in pastoral romance is shown to grow in importance and complexity in this important new study The genre of pastoral romance flourished dramatically in Renaissance England between 1590 and 1650 One of its key elements is that it is the daughter not the son of the gentle family who increasingly becomes the subject of the romance's attempt to define and illustrate heroism The pastoral heroine's task is paradoxical to break out of her pastoral paradise in order to ensure its reconstitution She is the princess the shepherdess the Lady or the virtuous daughter who becomes a repository of honor and virtue in a changing society where traditional chivalric definitions of honor hold decreasing purchase This groundbreaking book examines the typical challenges faced by the pastoral romance heroine as she matures within the pastoral locus amoenus the foundling dilemma the loop shaped quest the rhetorical battle the chastity threat the reconciliation of beauty to virtue and familial reunification It illustrates how the allegorical symbolic and psychological characterizations of pastoral heroines in the works of Sidney Spenser Wroth Fletcher Milton and Marvell anticipate developments in the representation of female subjectivities normally associated with the novel SUE P STARKE is Associate Professor of English at Monmouth University New Jersey

The Love of Romance 50 Books in One Collection is a breathtaking anthology that examines the profound and varied dimensions of romance through the ages. This collection artfully traverses a range of literary styles from the foundational dramas of Shakespeare to the penetrating social narratives of Austen and Woolf, illuminating how love and romantic ideals have been interpreted and reimagined across centuries. The anthology's thematic focus on the multifaceted nature of love is vividly captured through a diverse assortment of genres and narrative techniques, be it the gothic tensions of the Brontë sisters or the poignant realism of Tolstoy and Eliot. Standout pieces in this collection invite readers to explore the nuances of romantic aspirations and the societal forces at play. Bringing together monumental literary figures such as Dickens, Stendhal, Hawthorne, and Chopin, this anthology reflects a tapestry of cultural and historical influences that have shaped the romance genre. The authors included in this volume represent a confluence of Enlightenment, Romantic, Victorian, and Modernist impulses that contribute a kaleidoscopic view of romance. Their collective narratives echo a dialogue across time, bridging personal and historical contexts and offering insights into the shifting paradigms of love and desire within the human experience. The Love of Romance serves as a compelling gateway for readers to dive into fifty exemplary works that capture the depth and complexity of romantic literature. This anthology is not just an assemblage of stories but a narrative journey through time, inviting readers to immerse themselves in the rich dialogue these timeless works foster. Its scholarly and educational appeal makes the collection indispensable for those interested in the evolution of romance as a literary theme and its continued significance in understanding human relationships. Discover a world of romance brought vividly to life in this unparalleled collection.

Book Reviews, 1898 Focus and Background in Romance Languages Andreas Dufter, Daniel Jacob, 2009-06-18

Focus background structure has taken center stage in much current theorizing about sentence prosody, syntax, and semantics. However, both the inventory of focus expressions found cross-linguistically and the interpretive consequences associated with each of these continue to be insufficiently described. This volume aims at providing new observations on the availability and the use of focus markings in Romance languages. In doing so, it documents the plurality of research on focus in Spanish, Portuguese, French, Italian, and Romanian. Topics covered include constituent fronting and clefting, the position of subjects and focus particles, clitic doubling of objects, and information packaging in complex sentences. In addition, some contributions explore focus background structure from acquisitional and diachronic angles, while others adopt a comparative perspective, studying differences between individual Romance and

Germanic languages Therefore this volume is of interest to a broad audience within linguistics including syntacticians semanticists and historical linguists

A Romance of Two Worlds Marie Corelli, 1896 A Romance of Two Worlds starts with a young heroine in first person telling her story of a debilitating illness that includes depression and thoughts of suicide Her doctor is unable to help her and sends her off on a holiday where she meets a mystical character by the name of Raffello Cellini a famous Italian artist Cellini offers her a strange potion which immediately puts her into a tranquil slumber in which she experiences divine visions Upon waking she craves more Later she meets her unnamed guardian angel who whisks her through infinite solar systems faster than a shooting star while human spirits fly by like gossamer silk He shares the truth of religion and the secret of human destiny but still she longs for more She comes to understand God as pure light and pure love but it is not enough that she should see and hear these things from the touch of an angel She wants to master this ability on her own and seeks a oneness with God through a series of meditative disciplines while locked away in a monastery
