remain one of the controversial forms of youth digital health associated with negative peer influence or casual teenage talk. This book argues that online peer led dialogues support young people's agency in health and that young people can benefit from dealing with health issues with peers. The work is based on the digital ethnography of teenagers' subreddits on Reddit and utilises a theoretical framework of dialogism, a linguistic based theory originated by an early 20th century Russian philosopher Mikhail Bakhtin. The book introduces the concept of dialogical youth led youth digital health discourse formed in the peer led space of Reddit. This youth led discourse celebrates equality and diversity amongst people, meanings and opinions. It is constructed around three relational elements: socio-material affordances, creative practices and a plurality of youth voices. Reddit's pseudonymous, anti-authoritarian and egalitarian nature supports the emergence of this youth led discourse. The book can interest scholars and lecturers in childhood and youth studies, Internet studies and youth health studies. Professionals such as policymakers, service designers, deliverers, online safety educators and global youth and health agencies can use evidence based insights in their work with young people.
