College Rankings Ideas Store Hours:

An Idea Whose Time Has Come Pramath Raj Sinha, 2011-09-01 Ten years ago the founders of the Indian School of Business Hyderabad articulated a vision that was as daunting to execute as it was simple to state to build a world class business school in India The rest is history within a decade the ISB grew from a start up venture to globally top ranked business school named among the top twenty business schools in the world three years in a row with the distinction of being the youngest business school ever to enter the world top twenty rankings An Idea Whose Time Has Come traces the ISB's eventful history and also examines the reasons that account for the institute's success What emerges is a tale of perseverance and dedication of challenges met and rewards reaped and of an unshakeable idea that was painstakingly transformed into an invincible institution It is no wonder that the ISB continues to attract thousands of confident purposeful men and women every year and moulds them into talented professionals

Ranking Business Schools Linda Wedlin, 2006-01-01 In her admirable book Wedlin entangles what business school rankings really are and why they have become so important The book contains plenty to interest the growing army of business school employees whose duties at least in part are concerned with boosting their institution's position in the rankings Education and Training In times when the management education field is increasingly impacted by a proliferation of ranking exercises this book is a timely and welcome contribution Linda Wedlin unpacks for us the real meaning of the contemporary explosion of rankings Rather than simple classification schemes and mechanisms rankings are she suggests arenas where the field of business education is being created and re-created They are the loci of boundary work whereby a field is progressively evolving and constituting itself This is a convincing study relying on rich empirical data and carefully anchored in relevant theoretical debates A must read for all those academics students policy makers and education professionals who want to understand the complex contemporary logics of higher education in management but also probably well beyond Marie Laure Djelic ESSEC Business School Paris France League tables appear everywhere and have become important aspects of business school environments Based on in depth and creatively combined empirical studies Linda Wedlin provides us with explanations and insights on the emergence and impact of such rankings This book should be of great value for all those who seek to play the ranking game It gives a fresh perspective on how classification mechanisms drive the emergence boundary setting and change of organizational fields Kerstin Sahlin Andersson Uppsala University Sweden A fascinating study of the complex issues surrounding MBA rankings Business schools really hate them but at times have to pretend to love them Magazines and newspapers are really interested in their sales potential but have to make pretensions about their veracity Linda Wedlin focuses on an area rich in hypocrisy and hype but also one where there are real consequences ranking furthered reinforces the homogenising tendencies of MBAs Anthony Hopwood Saïd Business School University of Oxford UK This is a most fascinating topic dealt with in a manner which is both serious and entertaining everyone in a business school would want to read it Linda Wedlin's excellent research is presented with a no nonsense approach if there is anything worth counting she counts it and then interprets it no fuss Exemplary Barbara Czarniawska G teborg University Sweden This engaging book offers a fresh perspective on the burgeoning field of European management education and its intense concern with rankings Using a creative mix of well crafted research tools Wedlin deftly captures a professional field in transition as it both expands and develops shared standards Walter W Powell Stanford University US International comparisons and rankings of universities and business schools have proliferated in recent years Ranking Business Schools provides a welcome analysis of this development and its implications for the field of management education theorizing the role of classifications such as rankings in forming and structuring organizational fields Focusing on the European experience with rankings and the subsequent response the book illustrates how business schools use rankings to form identities and positions and to draw boundaries for the field By both creating and confirming belonging to a business school community and providing distinction within that group rankings are important for defining an international field of management education organizations constructing an international business school market and constitute an arena for debating and establishing the boundaries of this field Building an extensive theoretical framework for understanding classification

Global Ideas Barbara Czarniawska-Joerges, Guje Sevón, 2005 Attempts to explain how it is possible that although the same idea travels around the globe at a high speed local realities are still very different This book shows what is travelling and how it moves between countries and disciplines Its frame of reference consists of a combination of organization theory institutionalism and sociology

Extra-curricular Activities at the University of Minnesota University of Minnesota. Committee on Educational Research. Subcommittee on Extra-Curricular Activities, Francis Stuart Chapin, 1929 Extra Curricular Activities at the University of Minnesota was first published in 1929 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions This comprehensive survey conducted under Professor Chapin's direction supplies factual data in a field in which opinion is strong and conflicting The report is based on the replies of 4 637 students 408 alumni and 156 campus organizations Of exceptional interest are studies of special groups such as 379 prominent students 112 honor students 904 officers of campus organizations of the relation between the intensity of extra curricular activity and scholastic achievement of the time actually spent in extra curricular activity of the death rate of campus organizations and of the extent to which alumni carry over in community life the activities of their college years
