Early Detection and Intervention in Audiology Katijah Khoza-Shangase, Amisha Kanji, 2021-02-01 A textbook of case studies for audiologists and speech pathologists that makes recommendations for early detection and intervention of hearing impairments in the South African context Early hearing detection and intervention EHDI is the gold standard for any practicing audiologist and for families of infants and children with hearing impairment EHDI programs aim to identify diagnose and provide intervention to children with hearing impairment from as early as six months old as well as those at risk for hearing impairment to ensure they develop and achieve to their potential Yet EHDI remains a significant challenge for Africa and various initiatives are in place to address this gap in transferring policy into practice within the southern African context The diversity of factors in the southern African context presents unique challenges to teaching and research in this field which has prompted this book project The South African government s heightened focus on increasing access to health care which includes ongoing Early Childhood Development ECD programs make this an opportune time for establishing and documenting evidence based research for current undergraduate and postgraduate students Early Detection and Intervention in Audiology An African Perspective aims to address this opportunity Grounded in an African context with detailed case studies this book provides rich content that pays careful attention to contextual relevance and contextual responsiveness to both identification and intervention in hearing impairment With diverse contributions from experts in local and international contexts but always with an African perspective this is textbook will be an invaluable resource for students researchers and practitioners

Pioneers of the Field Andrew Bank, 2016-08-11 Focusing on the crucial contributions of women researchers Andrew Bank demonstrates that the modern school of social anthropology in South Africa was uniquely female dominated The book traces the personal and intellectual histories of six remarkable women through the use of a rich cocktail of archival sources including family photographs private and professional correspondence field notes and field diaries published and other public writings and even love letters The book also sheds new light on the close connections between their personal lives their academic work and their anti segregationist and anti apartheid politics It will be welcomed by anthropologists historians and students in African studies interested in the development of social anthropology in twentieth century Africa as well as by students and researchers in the field of gender studies

Ending Gender-Based Violence Hannah E. Britton, 2020-04-16 South African women's still increasing presence in local provincial and national institutions has inspired sweeping legislation aimed at advancing women's rights and opportunity Yet the country remains plagued by sexual assault rape and intimate partner violence Hannah E Britton examines the reasons gendered violence persists in relationship to social inequalities even after women assume political power Venturing into South African communities Britton invites service providers religious and traditional leaders police officers and medical professionals to address gender based violence in their own words Britton finds the recent turn toward carceral solutions with a focus on arrests and prosecutions fails to address the complexities of the problem and looks at how changing specific community dynamics can defuse interpersonal violence She also examines how place and space affect the implementation of policy and suggests practical ways policymakers can support street level workers Clear eyed and revealing Ending Gender Based Violence offers needed tools for breaking cycles of brutality and inequality around the world
