The Civil War Diary of Emma Mordecai Dianne Ashton, Melissa R. Klapper, 2024-10-29 A vivid look at the wartime experiences of a Jewish woman in the Confederate South Emma Mordecai lived an unusual life She was Jewish when Jews comprised less than 1 percent of the population of the Old South and unmarried in a culture that offered women few options other than marriage She was American born when most American Jews were immigrants She affirmed and maintained her dedication to Jewish religious practice and Jewish faith while many family members embraced Christianity Yet she also lived well within the social parameters established for Southern white women espoused Southern values and owned enslaved African Americans The Civil War Diary of Emma Mordecai is one of the few surviving Civil War diaries by a Jewish woman in the antebellum South It charts her daily life and her evolving perspective on Confederate nationalism and Southern identity Jewishness women's roles in wartime gendered domestic roles in slave owning households and the centrality of family relationships While never losing sight of the racist social and political structures that shaped Emma Mordecai's world the book chronicles her experiences with dislocation and the loss of her home Bringing to life the hospital visits food shortages local sociability Jewish observances sounds and sights of nearby battles and the very personal ramifications of emancipation and its aftermath for her household and family The Civil War Diary of Emma Mordecai offers a valuable and distinct look at a unique historical figure from the waning years of the Civil War South The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1987

National Affects Angharad Closs Stephens, 2022-08-11 Identity is widely acknowledged to be a felt experience yet questions of atmosphere mood and public sentiments are rarely made central to understanding the global politics of nationalism This book asks what difference it makes when we address national identity as principally an affective force National Affects traces how ideas about us and them take form in ordinary spaces in ways that are both deeply felt and hardly noticeable in studies of global events that range from the London 2012 Olympic Games to responses to acts of terror the European refugee crisis and Brexit In this timely intervention Angharad Closs Stephens addresses the affective dimensions of being together to open new angles in the study of nationalism and global politics She asks how the nation is felt in everyday life as well as differently experienced and investigates different forms of enacting being together to generate new insights in the study of national identity National Affects draws on academic theories in the study of Politics International Relations and Human Geography as well as stories performance works and novels to establish a new tone of critical enquiry Informed by longstanding critical interrogations of the politics of us and them this book argues that these ideas are not as stable as they are often made to seem Drawing on a combination of artistic and academic interventions this book offers a refreshing approach to conceptualising the politics of nationalism identity and citizenship In its focus on everyday atmospheres it identifies new registers for intervening politically Overall National Affects outlines other ways of imagining and practising being political together beyond the exclusionary politics of nationalism Motherland Rita

Goldberg,2013-05-07 A groundbreaking second generation memoir of the Holocaust and its legacy by Otto Frank's goddaughter The extraordinary tale is heroic The New York Times Rita Goldberg recounts the extraordinary story of her mother Hilde Jacobsthal a close friend of Anne Frank's family who was fifteen when the Nazis invaded Holland After the arrest of her parents in 1943 Hilde fled to Belgium living out the war years in an extraordinary set of circumstances first among the Resistance and then at Bergen Belsen after its liberation In the words of The Guardian the story is worthy of a film script As astonishing as Hilde's story is Rita herself emerges as the central character in this utterly unique memoir Proud of her mother and yet struggling to forge an identity in the shadow of such heroic accomplishments not to mention her family's close relationship to the iconic Frank family Goldberg offers an unflinching look at the struggles faced by children and grandchildren whose own lives are haunted by historic tragedy Motherland is the culmination of a lifetime of reflection and a decade of research It is an epic story of survival adventure and new life A double memoir that braids her parents' story with her own and succeeds in articulating a difficult truth The Economist

Fermentation Biotechnology for Functional Foods Kalidas Shetty,Lena Gálvez Ranilla,2025-10-31 Fermentation based processing advanced with global food systems as humanity started to organize the domestication of agriculture from plant and animal sources These advances emerged across regions of the world from river valley civilizations in Asia Mesopotamia India and China and Africa Egypt to Meso American civilizations As food crops and animal foods emerged from domestication to advancements in post harvest processing stages growth of invisible microbial systems led to modified foods that aligned with local palates of the communities This in several cases became part of food systems as it added a mode of preservation and improved the food quality that was preferred by each community This is how the early genesis of fermented foods from grains fruits and vegetables to animal meats and milk products became an integral part of early civilizations over 4000 years ago and has now carried over and further developed across many countries in every region of the world The foundations of these food fermentations are now an integral part of modern food advances as preferred food substrates and the microbial interactions that drive the metabolic processes in defined food matrixes are being scientifically advanced This book focuses on bringing together diverse emergences and advancements of fermented foods across different regions of the world and how the metabolic processes associated with fermentation in several cases add health relevant functional qualities across different food matrixes This book contains 26 chapters from the Americas Africa Europe and Asia bringing together the fermentation processes of diverse food substrates and their microbial processing and in several cases providing health targeted functional benefits Key Features Discusses the rationale and basis of fermented food systems from across 26 diverse regions of the world with examples from the Americas Asia Europe and Africa Presents historical plant and animal food substrates and the metabolic processes of their fermentation across traditions of a range of countries Covers traditional food fermentations across diverse food substrates that have potentially health relevant functional benefits Reflects and presents the role of historical cultural and traditional food concepts of a diverse range of countries with many novel examples and how they have influenced health relevant functional benefits Discusses the relevance of metabolic concepts of fermented and functional foods in advancing healthy food concepts This book is important for food scientists nutritionists and the health care sector but beyond this it is also relevant for a wider global audience interested in a holistic health approach from food systems where examples of fermentation experience can inform new natural processing strategies to improve food quality and health
