Medieval Wall Paintings In English And Welsh Churches:

Medieval Wall Paintings in English & Welsh Churches Roger Rosewell, 2008 Surveying the images and iconography that made the medieval church a riot of colour this book brings together many of the best surviving examples of medieval church wall paintings It uses new technologies to allow us to visualise these works as the artists first intended Rosewell's text accompanies the images Saint Christopher Wall Paintings in English and Welsh Churches, c.1250-c.1500

Eleanor Elizabeth Pridgeon, 2010 This thesis is a comprehensive reassessment of the role of Saint Christopher wall paintings in English and Welsh churches Although the study focuses primarily on parish churches where the majority of mural paintings survive it also considers cathedrals abbeys and other medieval buildings where such imagery is extant or documented Welsh churches are also examined where appropriate though there are only a few surviving Saint Christopher images in this geographical area The investigation spans the period from the emergence of Saint Christopher representations in illumination c 1250 to the beginning of the sixteenth century when wall painting depictions of the saint were at their zenith c 1500 for sake of convenience The thesis begins with an examination and assessment of universal image function and reception in medieval church and society This is a central issue to the study of churches and it is therefore necessary to dedicate a whole chapter to the subject Through the examination of individual paintings and documents relating to specific churches the thesis then goes on to focus on three main themes related to Saint Christopher and his cult First it considers the role of Saint Christopher wall paintings and other types of images where appropriate secondly the location of Saint Christopher murals within church buildings and thirdly the different methods of patronage associated with the wall paintings The survey also establishes a long overdue and revised chronology of the entire corpus of Saint Christopher wall paintings based on an examination of architectural documentary and visual evidence and on comparisons with other types of media from England and the Continent such as sculpture illumination and woodcuts Most murals can be dated to within the nearest quarter or third of a century and to the nearest century if the date of execution is uncertain Medieval Wall Paintings

Roger Rosewell, 2014-02-10 The medieval wall paintings that remain in English churches are for the most part shadows of their former selves the rare fragments of this beautiful art to have survived not only the Reformation but also successive waves of iconoclastic zeal and unsympathetic restoration The whitewashed walls of most parish churches belie the riot of colour and decoration that once adorned them but the remnants of paintings tucked into corners or rescued from later layers of paint help us to understand the role of art in medieval religion Roger Rosewell here offers a guide to the role played by medieval wall paintings as religious didactic and commemorative works of art telling the stories of those who created them and those who used them on a daily basis He also compares and contrasts religious and domestic wall paintings using beautiful colour photography throughout Studies in Late Medieval Wall Paintings, Manuscript Illuminations, and Texts

Clifford Davidson, 2016-12-19 This volume is an interdisciplinary consideration of late medieval art and texts falling into two parts first the iconography and context of the great Doom wall painting over the tower arch at Holy Trinity Church Coventry and second Carthusian studies treating fragmentary wall paintings in the Carthusian monastery near Coventry the devotional images in the Carthusian Miscellany and meditation for simple souls in the Carthusian Nicholas Love's Mirror of the Blessed Life of Jesus Christ Emphasis is on such aspects as memory participative theology devotional images meditative practice and techniques of constructing patterns of sacred imagery

Churches and Churchyards of England and Wales Richard Hayman, 2019-05-30 The parish church is a symbol of continuity a cornerstone of the urban and rural landscape and a treasure trove often as rich in cultural history as any museum This compact and accessible guide explores all of these aspects of the parish church beginning by examining why churches are built where they are and going on to explain how both church buildings and churchyards have changed over time It also describes their fixtures and furnishings including fonts screens stained glass and monuments explaining the ritual and symbolic purpose of these features and how their significance has shifted over time Lavishly illustrated with colour photographs this book will provide an indispensable primer for anyone who is curious about the nation's parish churches and wants to explore them further

The Art and Science of the Church Screen in Medieval Europe Spike Bucklow, Richard Marks, Lucy Wrapson, 2017 Fresh examinations of one of the most important church furnishings of the middle ages The churches of medieval Europe contained richly carved and painted screens placed between the altar and the congregation they survive in particularly high numbers in England despite being partly dismantled during the Reformation While these screens divided lay from priestly jurisdiction it has also been argued that they served to unify architectural space This volume brings together the latest scholarship on the subject exploring in detail numerous aspects of the construction and painting of screens it aims in particular to unite perspectives from science and art history Examples are drawn from a wide geographical range from Scandinavia to Italy Spike Bucklow is Director of Research at the Hamilton Kerr Institute University of Cambridge Richard Marks is Emeritus Professor of the History of Art at the University of York and currently a member of the History of Art Department University of Cambridge Lucy Wrapson is Assistant to the Director at the Hamilton Kerr Institute University of Cambridge Contributors Paul Binski Spike Bucklow Donal Cooper David Griffith Hugh Harrison Jacqueline Jung Justin Kroesen Julian Luxford Richard Marks Ebbe Nyborg Eddie Sinclair Jeffrey West Lucy Wrapson

The Archaeology of Churches Warwick Rodwell, 2012-05-15 The definitive work on church archaeology

The church as sacred space in Middle English literature and culture Laura Varnam, 2018-01-11 This book presents an exciting new approach to the medieval church by examining the role of literary texts visual decorations ritual performance and lived experience in the production of sanctity The meaning of the church was intensely debated in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries This book explores what was at stake not only for the church's sanctity but for the identity of the parish community as a result Focusing on pastoral material used to teach the laity it shows how the church's status as a sacred space at the heart of the congregation was dangerously but profitably dependent on lay practice The sacred and profane were inextricably linked and paradoxically the church is shown to thrive on the sacrilegious challenge of lay misbehaviour and sin The Grove Encyclopedia of Medieval Art and Architecture Colum Hourihane, 2012 This volume offers unparalleled coverage of all aspects of art and architecture from medieval Western Europe from the 6th century to the early 16th century Drawing upon the expansive scholarship in the celebrated Grove Dictionary of Art and adding hundreds of new entries it offers students researchers and the general public a reliable up to date and convenient resource covering this field of major importance in the development of Western history and international art and architecture

The Symbolism of Medieval Churches Mark Spurrell, 2019-11-19 The Symbolism of Medieval Churches An Introduction explores the ways in which the medieval church building and key features of it were used as symbols particularly to represent different relationships within the Church and the virtues of the Christian life This book introduces the reader to the definition form and use of medieval symbols and the significance that they held and still hold for some people exploring the context in which church symbolism developed and examining the major influences that shaped it Among the topics discussed are allegory typology moral interpretation and anagogy Further chapters also consider the work of key figures including Hugh and Richard of St Victor and Abbot Suger at St Denis Finally the book contrasts the Eastern world with the Western world taking a look at the late Middle Ages and what happened to church symbolism once Aristotle had ousted Plato from the schools Entering into the medieval mind and placing church symbolism in its context The Symbolism of Medieval Churches will be of great interest to upper level undergraduates postgraduates and scholars working on Architectural History Medieval Art Church History and Medieval History more widely Coventry: Medieval Art, Architecture and Archaeology in the City and its Vicinity Linda Monckton, 2017-07-05 The British Archaeological Association's 2007 conference celebrated the material culture of medieval Coventry the fourth wealthiest English city of the later middle ages The nineteen papers collected in this volume set out to remedy the relative neglect in modern scholarship of the city's art architecture and archaeology as well as to encompass recent research on monuments in the vicinity The scene is set by two papers on archaeological excavations in the historic city centre especially since the 1970s and a paper investigating the relationships between Coventry's building boom and economic conditions in the city in the later middle ages Three papers on the Cathedral Priory of St Mary bring together new insights into the Romanesque cathedral church the monastic buildings and the post Dissolution history of the precinct derived mainly from the results of the Phoenix Initiative excavations 1999-2003 Three more papers provide new architectural histories of the spectacular former parish church of St Michael the fine Guildhall of St Mary and the remarkable surviving west range of the Coventry Charterhouse The high quality monumental art of the later medieval city is represented by papers on wall painting featuring the recently conserved Doom in Holy Trinity church on the little known Crucifixion mural at the Charterhouse and on a reassessment of the working practices of the famous master glazier John Thornton Two papers on a guild seal and on the glazing at Stanford on Avon parish church consider the evidence for Coventry as a regional workshop centre for high quality metalwork and glass painting Beyond the city three papers deal with the development of Combe Abbey from Cistercian monastery to country house with the Beauchamp family's hermitage at Guy's Cliffe and with a newly identified stonemasons workshop in the barn at Kenilworth Abbey Two further papers concern the architectural patronage of the earls and dukes of Lancaster in the 14th century at Kenilworth Castle and in the Newarke at Leicester Castle

The Crusades and Visual Culture Laura J Whatley, 2017-07-05 The crusades whether realized or merely planned had a profound impact on medieval and early modern societies Numerous scholars in the fields of history and literature have explored the influence of crusading ideas values aspirations and anxieties in both the Latin States and Europe However there have been few studies dedicated to investigating how the crusading movement influenced and was reflected in medieval visual cultures Written by scholars from around the world working in the domains of art history and history the essays in this volume examine the ways in which ideas of crusading were realized in a broad variety of media including manuscripts cartography sculpture mural paintings and metalwork Arguing implicitly for recognition of the conceptual frameworks of crusades that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries the volume explores the pervasive influence and diverse expression of the crusading movement from the twelfth through the fifteenth centuries

Studies in the Art and Imagery of the Middle Ages Richard Marks, 2013-12-31

Ruth Bidgood Matthew Jarvis, 2012-06-15 This is the first full length study of the poet Ruth Bidgood who is best known for her long term literary engagement with the landscape and communities of the mid Wales region she has made her home Considering her entire career to date this volume provides detailed scrutiny of Bidgood's poetry from its genesis in her formative discovery of mid Wales in the 1960s to her 2009 prize winning volume Time Being Whilst acknowledging the breadth of Bidgood's poetic work this book argues that her most important achievement is her creation over many years of what has become nothing less than a mid Wales epic

Images and Objects in Ritual Practices in Medieval and Early Modern Northern and Central Europe Krista Kodres, Anu Mänd, 2014-07-18 This multidisciplinary collection of essays explores the functions meanings and use of images and objects in various late Medieval and Early Modern social practices which were linked by their ritual character The book approaches ritual as an action which is discussed under the general umbrella term performative practice and is characterised by a synthesis between the repetitive and the extraordinary that carries an intense symbolic meaning and is emotionally charged Images spaces and rituals were closely interconnected in both the religious and the secular spheres and played a relevant role in the symbolic communication of the time The essays in this volume are devoted to a complex study of these phenomena in Northern and Central Europe including regions which due to linguistic or cultural barriers have thus far received comparatively little attention in Anglo American scholarship including Scandinavia Poland and the Baltic states

English Birth Girdles Mary Morse, 2024-05-06 In medieval England women in labor wrapped birth girdles around their abdomens to protect themselves and their unborn children These parchment or paper rolls replicated the girdle relics of the Virgin Mary and other saints loaned to queens and noblewomen extending childbirth protection to women of all classes This book examines the texts and images of nine English birth girdles produced between the reigns of Richard II and Henry VIII Cultural artifacts of lay devotion within the birthing chamber the birth girdles offered the solace and promise of faith to the parturient woman and her attendants amid religious dissent political upheaval recurring epidemics and the onset of print

Contesting Orthodoxies in the History of Christianity Ellie Gebarowski Bagley, Ellie Gebarowski-Shafer, Ashley Null, Alec Ryrie, 2021 Examines the pursuit of orthodoxy and its consequences for the history of Christianity Christianity is a hugely diverse and quarrelsome family of faiths but most Christians have nevertheless set great store by orthodoxy literally right opinion even if they cannot agree what that orthodoxy should be The notion that there is a catholic or universal Christian faith that which according to the famous fifth century formula has been believed everywhere at all times and by all people is itself an act of faith to reconcile it with the historical fact of persistent division and plurality requires a constant effort It also requires a variety of strategies from confrontation and exclusion through deliberate choices as to what is forgotten or ignored to creative or even indulgent inclusion In this volume seventeen leading historians of Christianity ask how the ideal of unity has clashed negotiated reconciled or coexisted with the historical reality of diversity in a range of historical settings from the early Church through the Reformation era to the twentieth and twenty first centuries These essays hold the huge variety of the Christian experience together with the ideal of orthodoxy which Christians have never yet fully attained but for which they have always striven and they trace some of the consequences of the pursuit of that ideal for the history of Christianity

Architecture and Interpretation Jill Franklin, T. A. Heslop, Christine Stevenson, 2012 Essays centred on the methods pleasures and pitfalls of architectural interpretation

Experiences of Charity, 1250-1650 Anne M. Scott, 2016-03-09 For a number of years scholars who are concerned with issues of poverty and the poor have turned away from the study of charity and poor relief in order to search for a view of the life of the poor from the point of view of the poor themselves Great studies have been conducted using a variety of records resulting in seminal works that have enriched our understanding of pauper experiences and the influence and impact of poverty on societies If we return our gaze to charity with the benefit of those studies questions approaches sources and findings what might we see differently about how charity was experienced as a concept and in practice at both community and personal levels In this collection contributors explore the experience of charity towards the poor considering it in spiritual intellectual emotional personal social cultural and material terms The approach is a comparative one across different time periods nations and faiths Contributors pay particular attention to the way faith inflected charity in the different national environments of England and France as Catholicism and Calvinism became outlawed and or minority faith positions in these respective nations They ask how different faith and beliefs defined or shaped the act of charity and explore whether these changed over time even within one faith The sources used to answer such questions go beyond the textual as contributors analyse a range of additional sources that include the visual aural and material

Westminster Part I: The Art, Architecture and Archaeology of the Royal Abbey Warwick Rodwell, Tim Tatton-Brown, 2020-04-27

The British Archaeological Association's 2013 conference was devoted to the study of Westminster Abbey and the Palace of Westminster. It also embraced Westminster School which was founded at the Reformation in the Abbey precinct. Collectively these institutions occupy a remarkable assemblage of medieval and later buildings most of which are well documented. Although the Association had held a conference at Westminster in 1902 this was the first time that the internationally important complex of historic buildings was examined holistically and the papers published here cover a wide range of subject matter. Westminster came into existence in the later Anglo Saxon period and by the mid 11th century when Edward the Confessor's great new abbey was built it was a major royal centre two miles south west of the City of London. Within a century or so it had become the principal seat of government in England and this series of twenty eight papers covers new research on the topography buildings art history architecture and archaeology of Westminster's two great establishments Abbey and Palace. Part I begins with studies of the topography of the area an account of its Roman period finds and an historiographical overview of the archaeology of the Abbey. Edward the Confessor's enigmatic church plan is discussed and the evidence for later Romanesque structures is assembled for the first time. Five papers examine aspects of Henry III's vast new Abbey church and its decoration. A further four cover aspects of the later medieval period coronation and Sir George Gilbert Scott's impact as the Abbey's greatest Surveyor of the Fabric. A pair of papers examines the development of the northern precinct of the Abbey around St Margaret's Church and the remarkable buildings of Westminster School created within the remains of the monastery in the 17th and 18th centuries. Part II part deals with the Palace of Westminster and its wider topography between the late 11th century and the devastating fire of 1834 that largely destroyed the medieval palace. William Rufus's enormous hall and its famous roofs are completely reassessed and comparisons discussed between this structure and the great hall at Caen. Other essays reconsider Henry III's palace St Stephen's chapel the king's great chamber the Painted Chamber and the enigmatic Jewel Tower. The final papers examine the meeting places of Parliament and the living accommodation of the MPs who attended it the topography of the Palace between the Reformation and the fire of 1834 and the building of the New Palace which is better known today as the Houses of Parliament.
