Figure 1 illustrates the structure of the proposed model. The proposed model consists of three main components: the input layer, the hidden layer, and the output layer. The input layer receives the input data, which is then processed by the hidden layer. The output layer produces the final output. The model is trained using a supervised learning approach, where the input data is labeled with the corresponding output. The model is evaluated using a set of test data, and the performance is measured using a loss function. The model is trained until the loss is minimized, and the final model is used to predict the output for new input data.
