Maternal Impressions Cristina Mazzoni, 2002 In an unusual combination of reflection autobiography theory and criticism Cristina Mazzoni looks at childbirth and early maternity from the perspective of an academic mother with three young children Mazzoni draws upon examples ranging from contemporary advice manuals and novels to the work of turn of the century Italian scientists and women writers as well as fairy tales religious texts psychoanalytic accounts and feminist theory Throughout her investigations of the various forces that shape cultural views of pregnancy and childbirth Mazzoni strives to imagine and deploy maternity as a concept and a reality capable of challenging conventional representations of subjectivity The questions she addresses dwell on relationship and interdependence the inseparability of the personal and the political and the connections and interactions between bodies and power Maternal Impressions is far more than a book of literary criticism and theory It reveals the multiple bonds and continuities between the contradictory ways in which pregnancy and childbirth were represented a century ago and the manner in which they still haunt feminist experience today In her conclusion Mazzoni points toward a possible ethics of maternity

Performing Bodies Catherine Ramsey-Portolano, 2017-12-29 Performing Bodies Female Illness in Italian Literature and Cinema 1860 1920 explores the variations in the portrayal of female illness in Italian fin de si cle literature and early cinema Catherine Ramsey Portolano begins her study with an overview of nineteenth century theories on female inferiority and nervous disorders especially hysteria 19th century European scientific and philosophical discourse on women s bodies which focused on female biological functions and malfunctions accompanied an abundant fin de si cle literary representation of female illness a theme which also carried over into the cinematic genre of diva films of the 1910s Ramsey Portolano s analysis of fin de si cle Italian literary texts first discusses those novels in which illness represents the consequence and at times punishment for women who transgressed traditional societal roles and norms of behavior Ramsey Portolano also demonstrates however that there also existed within a portrayal of female illness which suggested sickness as a form of agency for women Rather than depicting women as powerless victims who succumb to illness due to the pressures and limitations of patriarchal society this second group of novels posits illness as a means for women to take control of their bodies and demonstrate self mastery through illness as a chosen form of behavior Performing Bodies Female Illness in Italian Literature and Cinema 1860 1920 concludes with a discussion of the role of female illness in Italian cinema of the 1910s Ramsey Portolano analyzes the films Tigre reale 1916 and Malombra 1917 featuring the divas Pina Menichelli and Lyda Borelli to show how illness granted centrality to the female character By placing the diva and her point of view at the center of the film's action these films posit the female character as the active one in advancing the story thus providing a progressive model for female Italian viewers and an early example of the female gaze in Italian cinema Performing Bodies Female Illness in Italian Literature and Cinema 1860 1920 examines how in Italian literature and film as well as in society women were confined to traditional roles and illness often represented the consequence for transgressing those roles Feigning illness offered women a way to own the illness and become manipulators and masters not only of their bodies but of their stories and destinies

Money Is Sweeter Than Honey Somoy Shafi, 2025-02-21 It is the preoccupation with possessions more than anything else that prevents us from living freely and nobly Bertrand Russell For other people Dohan Choudhury is just a weird Bangladeshi immigrant halfway to lunacy as he throws away every opportunity He is unemployed he hates businessmen and pawnbrokers he makes fun of the police he talks to rivers and trees and he burns money At least that is what Dohan is in a glance The truth is Dohan Choudhury is an idealist who is also a loving husband a doting father a poet and writer and a highly educated man who finished his PhD in Columbia University He is a man full of dreams aspirations ideals and hopes he was so optimistic to use when he landed in America until the rampant capitalism oppressive materialism pro American objectivism tyrannical stereotyping and severe alienation sucked out all the positivity in Dohan's life In a few years these negativities defining the world poisoned Dohan's mind heart and soul along with his relationship with his family and relatives who are all corrupted by money and high reputation Will Dohan be able to free himself from the veil of pretension and greed in the society or will he succumb to the devils of worldly possessions just like how everybody else did

UNDERTRIALS Major Verma Krapal, 2010-09-04 An army Major gets into the jail on a fictitious complaint He meets with not the undertrials but with their gory stories of murder deceit sodomy treachery just told in the open in front of all and sundry The story of a homosexual Nounoo and the rape case of a minor girl shakes his soul completely He writes and writes till he makes it The Undertrials a classic

Gendering Commitment Alex Standen, 2015-10-05 Notions of engagement commitment and impegno continue to provoke debate amongst academics researching contemporary Italian culture and yet be it by accident or by more conscious selection critical work has tended to posit these concepts as a predominantly male and often heteronormative domain This collection of essays challenges this assumption and analyses more closely the fluid and fragmented nature of commitment and the work of Italian intellectuals and cultural practitioners associated with it The volume's contributors engage with those who have typically been excluded from such debates not only female writers and artists but also males whose work has been denied the designation of impegnato The chapters all focus on individuals who insist on the need to question interrogate and denounce social realities Employing a range of theoretical perspectives and bringing into dialogue individuals not typically associated with terms such as engagement and commitment this volume offers an original and distinctive contribution to a discussion that persists in Italian studies

Catalogue of the Passeriformes Or Perching Birds Salvin, 1890 The Louisiana Planter and Sugar Manufacturer, 1899 The Relationship Rights of Children James G. Dwyer, 2006-04-17 This book presents a sustained theoretical analysis of what rights children should possess in connection with state decision making about their personal relationships which the state does in numerous aspects of family law including paternity adoption custody and visitation termination of parental rights and grandparent visitation It examines the nature and normative foundation of adults rights in connection with relationships among themselves and then assesses the extent to which the moral principles underlying adults rights apply also to children It concludes that the law should ascribe to children rights equivalent though not identical to those which adults enjoy and this would require substantial changes in the way the legal system treats children including a reformation of the rules for establishing legal parent child relationships at birth and of the rules for deciding whether to end a parent child relationship

Grounded in Grace Jonathan Holmes, 2024-09-09 Jonathan Holmes explores the challenges children face in forming their identity and offers guidance for parents in helping their children build their identity in Christ
