Needs Assessment Resources

In last month's newsletter, we focused on comprehensive longitudinal data systems (CLDS), as well as the goals and next steps of the system. Three more Promise Neighborhoods are deep in the process of conducting the needs assessment; this newsletter shares promising practices and a few resources to support the process of conducting a needs assessment. The first column of the Journal of Community Improvement (JCI) focused on gathering and using data for the needs assessment, and included perspectives from Jennifer Coates of the Urban Institute and Steve Spitzer of the Urban Strategies Council. Additional resources will become available regarding needs assessment and data collection through collaborations in the National Neighborhood Indicators Partnership as well as OII's initiative. As mentioned in the previous Neighborhood Watch, Francis Laine, author of the Building Communities That Promote a Quality, Connected, Safe World (see sidebar on page 1 of this newsletter for needs assessment promising practices from the Do-It-Yourself Promise Neighborhood) and the Building Communities That Promote a Quality, Connected, Safe World (see sidebar on page 1 of this newsletter for needs assessment promising practices from the Do-It-Yourself Promise Neighborhood).

Community of Practice in Massachusetts

The first Promise Neighborhoods planning process in Massachusetts, the Community Group: Boston, Dorchester, South Boston, and the United Way of Central Massachusetts, have been working closely together since the Promise planning grant was awarded in September 2010. From that time under the direction of Michael Chertok, the State's Commissioner of Elementary and Secondary Education to shape their efforts across the state, and that continued in recent telephone interviews.

A study visit of three building a community of practice and connecting as a group with state resources is a recent accomplishment of a Time early learning grant opportunity that will support the efforts to engage "hard-to-reach" families. The grant opportunity is limited only to the three PII planning grantees. On April 8, the three organizations will also participate in a Boston Promise Community to explore the important role of community in making positive change in urban neighborhoods.

F.A.Q. CENTRAL

- Q: What is a Promise Neighborhoods planning grant for youth to plan or "take up" existing efforts through multiple or varied activities beyond the geographic area that is applicant's community served?
- A: Yes. An applicant that has been serving children, and has already achieved significant results, both developmental, on a target geographic area prior to applying for a Promise Neighborhoods planning grant that propose to use planning grant funds to develop a plan to expand services and scale up successful initiatives to serve children in a new neighborhood. An applicant proposing to plan to "take up" existing activities in a new neighborhood must provide at least one explanation of ways that providers at least one of the following: How the applicant's proposed combination of activities in the geographic area proposed to be served.

UPCOMING EVENTS

April 14: Youth Violence Summit

The goal of the Summit is to reduce violence, improve opportunities for youth, and encourage innovation at both local and national levels.

April 22: Promise Neighborhoods Session at National Education Conference

April 22: Deadline For OIG's Conference Proposals

The U.S. Department of Education's Office of Education and Drug-Free Schools (OEDFS) is accepting proposals for workshops and sessions to be presented at the 2011 OIG's National Conference to be held August 8-10 at the National Harbor, MD. The conference theme is "Making the Connection: Creating and Maximizing Conditions for Learning." All proposals and questions about the conference may be submitted by email to edconf@ed.gov.

TIP OF THE MONTH:

Promise Neighborhoods serve key students like to keep with graduation and other school-related activities. The ability to learn, community engagement and economic awareness of Promise Neighborhoods.

Why Do Students Drop Out?

There is a consensus that these four indicators are the most telling:

- GRADE RETENTION - DROP
- "BELL RING" OR OVERSIGHT
- MISSING AGENTS
- MISSING INFORMATION
- FAILURE OF HOME ALIENATION

Diploma: It's More Than A Piece Of Paper

A drop-out factory is a high school where as many as 40 percent of the students who start as freshmen walk out their senior year. Most drop-out factories are in large cities or rural areas where poverty rates are high. A majority of the Promise Neighborhoods include schools that have higher than average drop-out rates. In fact, according to a 2009 study conducted by America's Promise Alliance, the graduation rates vary significantly in cities that are home to more Promise Neighborhoods programs and the surrounding suburbs. The city-suburb difference is considerable in New York (28.4%), Boston (27%), Philadelphia (21.4%), Los Angeles (19.7%), and Atlanta (18.7%).

Last month, the Baltimore Education Research Consortium (BERC) released a report titled Diploma: Graduation.

Each Grade Early Warning Indicator for Baltimore City Schools: Time For Change and Impact. Why should we pay attention to what a Baltimore really means? The Baltimore Public Schools had the second largest disparity in graduation rates at 40%.

BERC also identified each grade as being a critical intervention point where many drop out programs are geared towards eighth and ninth graders.

America's Promise Alliance recently launched Graduation which is a national effort to end the high school drop-out crisis in the U.S.

More Promise Neighborhoods programs have shown that there is a strong link between the quality of the community in your neighborhood, much more than one another, and share your best practices. Each that drop-out impact more than just your own neighborhood.

LEAA Newsletter United States. Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, Improving the Use and Effectiveness of Neighborhood Watch Programs James Garofalo, Maureen McLeod, 1988 Handbook of Loss Prevention and Crime Prevention Lawrence J. Fennelly, 2019-12-05 Handbook of Loss Prevention and Crime Prevention Sixth Edition continues to serve as the preeminent comprehensive resource for devising practical modern solutions for securing people and property. The book presents the latest key applications for securing structures with Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED) including plan review, report writing, presentation skills, lighting, zoning, and behavioral management. Other sections address the latest issues related to active shooter situations, information technology, and international terrorism. Practical examples are provided exploring applications for limiting retail crime and employing disaster readiness strategies. Edited by seasoned, trusted security practitioner Lawrence Fennelly, the book features contributions by some of the most well-known experts in the field. Readers will find this book to be a trusted resource for physical security professionals, students, and certification candidates who must navigate and make sense of today's most pressing domestic and international security issues. Covers every important topic in the field including new coverage of active shooters, terroristic threats, and the latest on wireless security applications, data analysis, and visualization, situational crime prevention, and global security standards and compliance issues. Provides a comprehensive examination on the content and skills necessary for passing the ASIS Certified Protection Professional (CPP) exam. Features contributions from the leading, most trusted subject matter experts in the field.

Criminal Justice Chris W. Eskridge, 1993 Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design in Parking Facilities Mary S. Smith, 1996 , National Criminal Justice Thesaurus , 1980 Crime Prevention David A. Mackey, Kristine Levan, 2013. Written by a collection of scholarly experts, Crime Prevention presents significant issues related to contemporary crime prevention efforts. Interdisciplinary in its approach, the text is written for courses within a criminal justice or sociology curriculum. Co-Editor and author David Mackey begins by emphasizing the importance of crime prevention as it relates to financial and social costs and introduces students to the theoretical models of crime prevention. The subsequent order of the chapters parallels the medical model of crime prevention, moving from primary crime prevention, secondary crime prevention, and tertiary crime prevention efforts. Traditional areas of crime prevention are reflected in the chapters on family, schools, guns, policing, sentencing, and correctional programs, and additional chapters cover emerging areas now considered critical to crime prevention, such as technology, surveillance, and specific efforts to protect more vulnerable populations. Key Features: Includes a comprehensive look at the many facets of crime prevention, merging both the theory and practice. Provides a comprehensive discussion on a range of crime prevention topics while incorporating a theoretical foundation, a look at previous research, and existing policy analysis. Includes the most recent data in the field, acknowledging the recent changes in crime prevention due to increased awareness of terrorism and advances in technological capabilities.

Clarke, T. Hope, 2012-12-06 This book contains the papers given at a workshop organised by the Home Office England and Wales on the subject of residential burglary This is a topic of much public concern and I welcome the Home Office initiative in mounting the workshop The contributors were all researchers and criminologists who have made a special study of burglary and their brief was to consider the implications of their work for policy As a policeman I find their work of particular interest and relevance at this time when police performance as traditionally measured by the clear up rate is not keeping pace with the increase in the numbers of burglaries coming to police attention The finding that increases in burglary are more reflective of the public's reporting habits than of any significant rise in the actual level of burglary helps with perspective but offers little comfort to policemen The 600 0 increase in the official statistics since 1970 is accompanied by a proportionate increase in police work in visiting victims searching scenes of crime writing crime reports and completing other documentation In some forces the point has been reached where available detective time is so taken up by the volume of visits and reports that there is little remaining for actual investigation But because of the random and opportunist nature of burglary it cannot be said with any confidence that increasing investigative capacity would make a significant and lasting impact on the overall burglary figures New York Magazine, 1997-10-13 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea American Power Sean Hammond, 2014-05 Police Department Information Systems Technology Enhancement Project, ISTEP, 2000 Case Studies of Community Anti-drug Efforts Saul Neiman Weingart, Francis X. Hartmann, David Osborne, 1994 Crime Prevention Steven E. Barkan, Michael Rocque, 2020-01-31 In Crime Prevention Programs Policies and Practices criminologists Steven E Barkan and Michael Rocque present a well rounded exploration of evidence based policies programs and practices Grounded in criminological theory and emphasizing the social psychological and biological roots of crime this text presents current research perspectives and examples that capture the key crime prevention concepts students should understand including the public health model for crime prevention Highlighting the importance of applying theory to real world solutions the authors discussion of crime prevention strategies integrates theory and practice throughout the text FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, 1999 Creating Community Michael Robert Pierson, 2011-09-27 The goal of this book is to help those people whose lives are impacted by community association living owners residents board members volunteers management staff and the business partners that service them have a clearer understanding of the dynamics about how to create a community in the truest sense of the word A collection of diverse individuals that are engaged with each other informed about community issues and actively work together in order to accomplish goals that will make the community stronger and each of their individual lives better Creating Community contains simple yet profound management strategies that board members volunteers and management can utilize to attract the energy of change needed in order to bring people together towards the pursuit of common goals and objectives In short it is about the art of empowerment in community association living
