Necessity Entrepreneurs Microenterprise Education And Economic Development:

Necessity Entrepreneurs Jeremi Brewer, Stephen W. Gibson, 2014-03-28 Necessity entrepreneurs are individuals in developing countries who start small enterprises out of necessity While they range from street sellers to educated hopefuls with little access to formal employment the one thing that unites them is the need ICIE 2018 6th International Conference on Innovation and Entrepreneurship Dr. Denise A. D. Bedford, Dr. Elias G. Carayannis, 2018-03-05 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 6th International Conference on Innovation and Entrepreneurship ICIE 2018 which is being co hosted by Georgetown University and George Washington University and is being held at The University of the District of Columbia UDC on 5 6 March 2018 Toward Entrepreneurial Community

Development Michael Fortunato, Morgan Clevenger, 2017-03-31 Toward Entrepreneurial Community Development is about developing entrepreneurial communities and goes beyond theories of the firm to demonstrate how local and regional society contributes in important ways to the vitality of entrepreneurs The literature is rich with insights about leadership and culture within SMEs and the behaviours and attitudes of their founders founding teams and managers Since most of the attention in the entrepreneurship literature is focused on firms we wish to explore everyone else The social environment surrounding the entrepreneur and how leadership and culture outside the firm can have pervasive effects on the business This book reaches across disciplinary boundaries integrating and advancing knowledge on entrepreneurial community development The book identifies actionable leadership strategies that can be used by literally anyone to help make a community or region a more culturally supportive interactive home for entrepreneurial minds We draw from original research to compare high and low entrepreneurship communities and present an emergent picture of how community level actors can or fail to work together to support entrepreneurship in places that are culturally distant from the Silicon Valley i e most places Toward Entrepreneurial Community Development then offers techniques for entrepreneurial community leadership including how to build lasting alliances create an image and harness the local culture for entrepreneurial advantage The result is a book that provides the reader with the latest advancements and techniques in entrepreneurship development in a straight forward readable format No matter the reader Toward Entrepreneurial Community Development demonstrates how anyone in any position can lead a local entrepreneurship movement starting anywhere anytime Entrepreneurial Intention Evan J.

Douglas, 2020-01-31 In this timely book Evan Douglas examines the limitations of the current models of entrepreneurial motivation He proposes an expanded general model of entrepreneurial intention which integrates both commercial and social entrepreneurs and explicitly examines the motivation to innovate In this new integrated model of entrepreneurial intention he explores the asymmetric data relationships and interdependencies of these four motivations that operate to result in multiple equally valid pathways to entrepreneurial action Research Handbook on Disability and Entrepreneurship

Yousafzai, Shumaila, Ng, Wilson, Sheikh, Shandana, Coogan, Thomas, 2022-10-20 By exploring the economic and social value of Building a Resilient and Responsible World Urmi Nanda Biswas, Saswata Narayan Biswas, 2025-05-02 This volume extensively examines the current psychosocial challenges individuals and groups face in building a responsible society. It challenges the norms of social influence research focusing on processes that drive responsible organizations and societal advancement. It delves into the layers of influence that shape our societies. It also spotlights the practical complexities of implementing government schemes mainly focusing on Persons with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (PWIDDs). This volume uncovers the driving forces behind societal evolution and the strategies that harness responsible influence for a more inclusive and progressive future. Chapters in this contributed volume present theoretical contributions and results of empirical research from different disciplines such as applied social and cognitive psychology, organizational psychology, cultural psychology, health psychology, educational psychology, life span development, and are grouped into four thematic sections. The first part of the book brings together chapters discussing culture diversity and inclusivity. The second part highlights issues of gender equity and resilience in Indian society. The third part focuses on health and well-being. Finally, the fourth part discusses resilient and responsible behavior in everyday social contexts. The book offers valuable insights into addressing social psychological challenges individuals and groups face, promoting resilient and sustainable behavior towards a responsible society. It is a valuable resource for researchers in the fields of psychology as well as for educators and teachers interested in knowing more about social psychological issues related to equity, diversity, and inclusivity within the Indian context.

International Migrants in Johannesburg's Informal Economy Peberdy, Sally, 2016-10-17 This report provides a rich view of the activities of migrant entrepreneurs in the informal economy of Johannesburg. It is hoped that the information will facilitate understanding of the informal sector and its potential, and not just in the context of migrant entrepreneurs. The informal economy plays a significant role in the entrepreneurial landscape of the City of Johannesburg and is patronized by most of the city's residents. The research presented here challenges commonly held opinions about migrant entrepreneurs in the City of Johannesburg and shows that they do not dominate the informal economy which remains largely in the hands of South Africans In late 2013 the City through Operation Clean Sweep removed up to 8 000 traders from the city s streets As this and recent xenophobic attacks demonstrate Johannesburg can be a hostile place in which to operate a business as an informal economy migrant entrepreneur Instead of trying to sweep the streets clean of these small businesses government at national provincial and city levels should develop policies to grow the SMME economy develop township economies and manage the informal economy and street trading They need to incorporate the businesses owned by migrant entrepreneurs rather than exclude and demonize them These businesses make an invaluable contribution to Johannesburg s economy despite operating in a non enabling political and policy environment

Tourism and Development in the Developing World David J. Telfer, Richard Sharpley, 2015-12-14 Tourism is widely considered to be an important factor in socio economic development particularly in less developed countries However despite almost universal recognition of tourism s development potential the extent to which economic and social progress is linked to the growth of a country s tourism sector remains the subject of intense debate Tourism and Development in the Developing World offers a thorough overview of the tourism development relationship Focusing specifically on the less developed world and drawing on contemporary case studies this updated second edition questions widely held assumptions on the role of tourism in development and seeks to highlight the challenges faced by destinations seeking to achieve development through tourism The introductory chapter establishes the foundation for the book exploring the meaning and objectives of development reviewing theoretical perspectives on the developmental process and assessing the reasons why less developed countries are attracted to tourism as a development option The concept of sustainable development as the most widely adopted contemporary model of development is then introduced and its links with tourism critically assessed Subsequent chapters explore the key issues associated with tourism and development including the rise of globalization the tourism planning and development process the relationship between tourism and communities within which it is developed the management implications of trends in the demand for and uptake of tourism and an analysis of the consequences of tourism development for destination environments economies and societies A new chapter considers the challenges of climate change sustainability of resource supply oil water and food global economic instability political instability and changing demographics Finally the issues raised throughout the book are drawn together in a concluding chapter that assesses the tourism and development dilemma Combining an overview of essential concepts theories and knowledge with an analysis of contemporary issues and debates in tourism and development this new edition will be an invaluable resource for those investigating tourism issues in developing countries The book will be of interest to students of tourism development geography and area studies international relations and politics and sociology

Immigrant Entrepreneurship in Cities
Cathy Yang Liu, 2020-08-01 This book draws on evidence from global cities around the world and explores various dimensions of immigrant entrepreneurship and urban development It provides a substantive contribution to the existing literature in several ways First of all it pursues a comparative approach with case studies from both the global north and global south so as to broaden the theoretical framework in this area especially as pertinent to emerging economies Second it covers multiple scales from local community place making to urban contexts of reception to transnational networks and connections Third it combines approaches and research methods from numerous disciplines investigating entry dynamics trends and patterns business performance challenges and the impact of immigrant entrepreneurship in urban areas Finally it pays particular attention to current international experiences regarding urban policies on immigrant entrepreneurship Given its scope the book will be an enlightening read for anyone interested in immigration entrepreneurship and urban development issues around the globe As global cities around the world continue to attract both domestic migrants and international migrants to their bustling metropolises immigrant entrepreneurship is emerging as an important urban phenomenon that calls for careful examination From Chinatown in New York to Silicon Valley in San Francisco to Little Africa in Guangzhou immigrant owned businesses are not only changing the business landscape in their host communities but also transforming the spatial economic social and cultural dynamics of cities and regions

Institutional Case Studies on Necessity

Entrepreneurship Jeremi Brewer, teph W. Gibson, 2016-07-27 An estimated one billion individuals in both developed and developing nations can be defined as necessity entrepreneurs individuals who have no other viable option for licit income than to start a small income generating activity However the emphasis on providing business and leadership training to necessity entrepreneurs is only just gaining traction This book provides the first known global analysis dedicated exclusively to organizations from both the public and private sectors that are specifically involved with microenterprise education for necessity entrepreneurs The authors provide a pragmatic synopsis and evaluate the efficacy of the programs that have been currently are or will soon be teaching and or training necessity entrepreneurs around the globe Microenterprise: laying the Foundation for Economic Development, 2004 Proceedings of the International Conference on Sustainable

Collaboration in Business, Technology, Information, and Innovation (SCBTII 2024) Suhal Kusairi, Forget Mingiri Kapingura, Putri Fariska Sugestie, Nizam Ahmat, 2024-11-16 This is an open access book Global growth has lost momentum On average GDP growth has declined from more than 2% in advanced economies and nearly 6% in emerging and developing economies in the early 2000s to less than 1.5% and less than 2% post COVID period A succession of crises has compounded this sustained slowdown in growth It has been more than a decade since the beginning of the global financial crisis yet it continues to cast a shadow not least in the policy choices of many advanced economies The COVID 19 pandemic and the shock of lockdowns left behind an aftermath of a surge in public debt levels and a reversal of global development progress Geopolitical tensions and conflicts have further reshaped an increasingly multipolar international order with far reaching implications for technology growth and development Overshadowing these developments is the growing awareness that the world's rising temperature poses grave dangers to the long term prospects for humanity with the world currently on track for a temperature rise significantly above the targets set out in the Paris Agreement in 2015 The critical question for this pivotal moment is not whether the world still needs economic growth but how that growth is achieved and whether it is aligned with other important national and global priorities Against this backdrop universities are essential in educating and providing professional human resources and conducting high quality research that benefits humanity However universities must play a significant role and be innovative and creative in engaging and supporting the development opportunities and consolidation of the global community To embark on this role effectively universities must always foster communication and discussion among stakeholders under the Sustainability Development Goals SDGs Academia Government Business and Communities must increasingly cooperate to achieve academic and research excellence and constructive solutions to current business and economic issues Sustainable Collaboration in Business Information and Innovation SCBTII 2024 is an international conference that brings together academics professionals entrepreneurs researchers learners and other associated groups from all over the world that are interested in theories as well as practices in the field of the digital economy for global competitiveness This conference provides opportunities for presenters and participants to exchange new ideas and experiences create research relationships and find international partners for future collaboration to respond to economic business social and technological development challenges successfully and effectively for better life and well being

Women, Entrepreneurship and Development in the Middle East Beverly Dawn Metcalfe, Bettina Lynda

Bastian, Haya Al-Dajani, 2021-12-20 The Middle East was the region least impacted in the 2008 crisis has investment systems markedly different to the West is largely governed by Islamic Shari'a and has varying forms of governance and institutional organization which are not understood by many nor how these systems shape entrepreneurial and industrial development While the Middle East as a region has seen a small growth in entrepreneurship for women and business scholarship on the Middle East has grown there is no text in English that has brought critical insights from the Middle East together in a single volume In examining women's entrepreneurship in the Middle East this book aims to challenge Global North assumptions about the disempowering impacts of Islamic Shari'a and governance Referring to the constraints of Islam on women's subjectivity and agency greatly misunderstands religious identity of both men and women and the way in which public administration and private sector institutions are organized in very different ways to Western regions This timely text expands and adds new insights to the theorizations of women's entrepreneurship in the Middle East through unravelling spatialized themes and incorporates contemporary themes including an Islamic science reading of women work and venturing changing families and entrepreneurship development women managing social crises Islamization governance and women Islamic feminist activisms and entrepreneurship representations of women's entrepreneurship on social media and women's collectives leading entrepreneurship via Facebook entrepreneurship It will be of interest to researchers academics and students in the fields of entrepreneurship gender work and organizations Educating Entrepreneurial Citizens Joan DeJaeghere, 2017-05-18 Educating Entrepreneurial Citizens examines the multiple and contradictory purposes and effects of entrepreneurship education aimed at addressing youth unemployment and alleviating poverty in Tanzania. Governments in sub-Saharan Africa face increasing pressure to educate young people through secondary school, supposedly equipping them with knowledge and skills for employment and their future. At the same time, many youths do not complete their education, and there are insufficient jobs to employ graduates. The development community sees entrepreneurship education as one viable solution to the double-edged problem of inadequate education and few jobs. But while entrepreneurship education is aligned with a governing rationality of neoliberalism that requires individuals to create their own livelihoods without government support, the two NGO programs discussed in this book draw on a rights-based discourse that seeks to educate those not served by government schools, providing them with educational and social supports to be included in society. The chapters explore the tensions that occur when international organizations and NGOs draw on both neoliberal and liberal human rights discourses to address the problems of poverty, unemployment, and poor quality education. Furthermore, when these neo-liberal perspectives meet local ideas of reciprocity and solidarity, they create friction and alter the programs and effects they have on youth. The book introduces the concept of entrepreneurial citizens: those who utilize their innovative skills and behaviors to claim both economic and social rights from which they had been previously excluded. The programs taught youth how to develop their own enterprises to earn profits and to save for their own futures, but youth used their education skills and labor to provide for basic needs, to be included in society, and to support their and their families' well-being. By showing the contradictory effects of entrepreneurship education programs, the book asks international agencies and governments to consider how they can go beyond technical approaches of creating enterprises and increasing income and head toward approaches that consider the kinds of labor that young people and communities value for their well-being. This book will be of interest to scholars and practitioners of education and international development, youth studies, African Studies, and entrepreneurship social entrepreneurship education.
