Negotiating Economic Development Identity Formation And Collective Action In Belize:

Negotiating Economic Development Laurie Kroshus Medina, 2022-07-12 The citrus industry in Belize could be said to exist primarily to satisfy the needs of people in other countries A business that is highly dependent on global markets and the geopolitics of international trade it comprises some 500 farmers many hundreds of wage laborers and two processing companies that produce frozen juice concentrate for export This new study examines how those farmers laborers and companies define and pursue shared interests and how they respond differently to the impact of national development strategies and global economic and political forces Laurie Kroshus Medina analyzes the development of the citrus industry in Belize over fifteen years to explore the relationship between the production of collective identities and the negotiation of development policies at the interface of global and local processes She shows how citrus farmers and workers processing companies and politicians compete to construct shared identities how they mobilize collective actors and how their collective action shapes the goals policies and practices associated with development Taking an ethnographic approach Medina describes how the Belizean citrus industry responds to cycles of boom and bust and the implications of such cycles for workers and growers She offers a close look at the major actors workers union members small and large growers and politicians as they respond to global changes in the citrus industry Her analysis is made more compelling through an account of two open struggles in the industry over the formation of a rival union and the attempt to buy the processing company owned by the multinational corporation Nestl She also includes a discussion of the impact of NAFTA on the industry Medina's research demonstrates how collective agency in Belize has pushed the citrus industry's development in directions that simultaneously conform to and diverge from the trajectories laid out by foreign agencies Negotiating Economic Development provides a bridge from old to new studies of Latin American social movements as it offers key insights into competing forms of identity for a wide range of social scientists concerned with the human and social aspects of development issues and globalization

Negotiating Heritage through Education and Archaeology Alicia Ebbitt McGill, 2021-08-17 Combining years of ethnographic research with British imperial archival sources this book reveals how cultural heritage has been negotiated by colonial independent state and community actors in Belize from the late nineteenth century to the present

Governing Maya Communities and Lands in Belize Laurie Kroshus Medina, 2024-05-17 In Belize conservation NGOs push for wildlife sanctuaries to protect endangered ecosystems State actors authorize timber extraction to generate revenue for debt repayment Maya communities dispossessed by state and NGO strategies pursue claims for Indigenous rights to lands This book explores the conflicting forms of governance that emerge as these trajectories intersect Home Cooking in the Global Village Richard Wilk, 2006-02-01 Winner of the Society for Economic Anthropology Annual Book Prize 2008 Belize a tiny corner of the Caribbean wedged into Central America has been a fast food nation since buccaneers and pirates first stole ashore As early as the 1600s it was already caught in the great paradox of globalization how can you stay local and relish your own home cooking while tasting the delights of the global marketplace Menus recipes and bad colonial poetry combine with Wilk s sharp anthropological insight to give an important new perspective on the perils and problems of globalization

From Colony to Nation Anne S. Macpherson,2007-01-01 The first book on women s political history in Belize From Colony to Nation demonstrates that women were creators of and activists within the two principal political currents of twentieth century Belize colonial middle class reform and popular labor nationalism The Oxford Handbook of Central American History Robert H. Holden,2022 Leading scholars of Central America offer critical analyses of major themes in the historiography of this seven country region of Latin America Chapters engage both the novice s search for basic orientation and context and the experienced scholar s interest in evaluative critiques of the historical literature Becoming Creole Melissa A. Johnson,2019 Taking the reader into the lived experience of Afro Caribbean people who call the watery lowlands of Belize home Melissa A Johnson traces Belizean Creole peoples relationships with the plants animals water and soils around them and analyzes how these relationships intersect with transnational racial assemblages Jews and Their Foodways Anat Helman,2015 Bringing together contributions from a diverse group of scholars Volume XXVIII of Studies in Contemporary Jewry presents a multifaceted view of the subtle and intricate relations between Jews and their foodways The symposium covers Europe the Middle East Africa and North America from the 20th century to the 21st Social Closure and International Society Tristen Naylor,2018-12-07 Laying the foundations of a theory of international social closure this book examines how actors compete for a seat at the table in the management of international society and how that competition stratifies the international domain In a broad historical survey from the Family of Civilised Nations through the Great Powers club to the G7 and G20 today Naylor investigates the politics of membership in the exclusive clubs that manage international society and ensure its survival providing us with a new way to think about how status competition has changed over time and what this means for international politics today With its sociologically grounded theory this book advances English School scholarship and transforms the study of contemporary summitry providing a ground breaking approach rooted in archival research elite interviews and ethnographic participant observation This book is of interest to international relations scholars interested in the expansion and globalisation of international society the history of international summits and transformations in international order as well as to those examining concepts including stratification hierarchy and networked governance With its emphasis on non state actors in global governance scholars and practitioners alike working on for civil society will also find this research of great value Constituting Central American-Americans Maritza E. Cárdenas,2018-07-09 Central Americans are the third largest and fastest growing Latino population in the United States And yet despite their demographic presence there has been little scholarship focused on this group Constituting Central American Americans is an exploration of the historical and disciplinary conditions that have structured U S Central American identity and of the ways in which this identity challenges how we frame current discussions of Latina o American ethnic and diasporic identities By focusing on the formation of Central American identity in the U S Maritza E C rdenas challenges us to think about Central America and its diaspora in relation to other U S ethno racial identities Land Grab Keri Vacanti Brondo,2013-06-06 Land Grab is a rich ethnographic account of the relationship between identity politics neoliberal development policy and rights to resource management in Garifuna communities on the north coast of Honduras before and after the 2009 coup d tat The Garifuna are a people of African and Amerindian descent who were exiled to Honduras from the British colony of St Vincent in 1797 and have long suffered from racial and cultural marginalization Employing approaches from feminist political ecology critical race studies and ethnic studies Keri Vacanti Brondo illuminates three contemporary development paradoxes in Honduras the recognition of the rights of indigenous people at the same time as Garifuna are being displaced in the name of development the privileging of foreign research tourists in projects that promote ecotourism but result in restricting Garifuna from traditional livelihoods and the contradictions in Garifuna land rights claims based on native status when mestizos are reserving rights to resources as natives themselves Brondo s book asks a larger question can freedom understood as well being be achieved under the structures of neoliberalism Grounding this question in the context of Garifuna relationships to territorial control and self determination the author explores the reregulation of Garifuna land neoliberal conservation strategies like ecotourism research tourism and voluntourism the significant issue of who controls access to property and natural resources and the rights of women who have been harshly impacted by development In her conclusion Brondo points to hopeful signs in the emergence of transnational indigenous environmental and feminist organizations Global Tourism Sarah M. Lyon,E. Christian Wells,2012-03-15 Global tourism is perhaps the largest scale movement of goods services and people in history Consequently it is a significant catalyst for economic development and sociopolitical change While tourism increasingly accounts for ever greater segments of national economies the consequences of this growth for intercultural interaction are diverse and uncertain The proliferation of tourists also challenges classic theoretical descriptions of just what an economy is What are the commodities being consumed What is the division of labor between producers and clients in creating the value of tourist exchanges How do culture power and history shape these interactions What are the prospects for sustainable tourism How is cultural heritage being shaped by tourists around the world These critical questions inspired this volume in which the contributors explore the connections among economy sustainability heritage and identity that tourism and related processes makes explicit The volume moves beyond the limits of place specific discussions case studies and best practice examples Accordingly it is organized according to three overarching themes exploring dimensions of cultural heritage the multi faceted impacts of tourism on both hosts and guests and the nature of touristic encounters Based on ethnographic and archaeological research conducted in distinct locations the contributors conclusions and theoretical arguments reach far beyond the limits of isolated case studies Together they contribute to a new synthesis for the anthropology of tourism while simultaneously demonstrating how emerging theories of the economics of tourism can lead to the rethinking of traditionally non touristic enterprises from farming to medical occupations

Beyond Fragmentation Juanita De Barros, Audra Diptee, David Vincent Trotman, 2006 In this book leading scholars pull together some of the most recent research on the key themes of Caribbean history slavery the transition to freedom colonialism and decolonization Although all parts of the Caribbean experienced these phases the manner in which they did so differed significantly in part because of their distinct imperial histories Contemporary fragmentation and insularity have led to significant variations in the region's historiography The contributors examine the divergent historiographical and methodological developments in the British French Spanish and Dutch Caribbean By addressing these four linguistic areas of the Caribbean they aim to overcome the traditional differences imposed by language and in the process to explore hotly debated subjects and new directions in Caribbean scholarship
