Nsw Police Force Martin Place Siege:

Holding the Blue Line in Australia Virginia Small, 2025-09-26 This book examines the portrayal of contemporary policing in New South Wales Australia by mainstream media and how its sourcing of social media influences public opinion. The observable and measurable consequences of this intermingling of news content with viewpoints is that mainstream media in tandem with social media influence political leaders to respond and pivot readily towards platformed views with either quick reactions through policymaking and new or revised legislation or arbitrarily letting matters slide. The phenomenon is analysed through specific case studies in the book and the complications for police media and crisis management are identified. This extensive research has relevance for policing globally because mainstream media relies heavily on social media content that is instantaneous, global, curated and reliant on marketable and readily understood narratives. The book analyses the selective process by which actors in mainstream media construct news relying on prior framing narratives and perpetuating the received opinion of social media as if it represents general belief. Media framing disrupts and interrupts public understandings of the role of policing and perpetuates misunderstanding in the public arena of the institutional values and legislated responsibilities of a police force. In addition, strategies employed by social media activists to frame and re-contextualise crisis events impact on police law enforcement operations and can hamper police capacity to respond to protect public safety. Under Siege: Black Muslim Down Under Sulaiman

Abdur-Rahman, 2015-06-12 Under Siege: Black Muslim Down Under is a memoir that chronicles the life of professional journalist Sulaiman Abdur Rahman as it gives the gripping account on why he walked away from his high profile journalism career in the United States to migrate to Sydney Australia. Wrapped in a riveting love story, Abdur Rahman's memoir also serves as a must-read social commentary about race and religion. Drawing upon his life experience and writing from his perspective as an African American Muslim, Abdur Rahman uses his bulldog journalism style backed with compelling evidence to explain why the Commonwealth of Australia is a culturally challenged nation that offers a lower quality of life and lesser opportunities for advancement than the United States of America. The narrative inevitably touches upon the religion of Islam and the global fight against the Islamic State international terrorist group. In the end, this memoir conveys an unprecedented story about faith, love, adversity and romance. Mind Behind The Crime Cheryl Critchley, Helen

McGrath, 2018-06-26 Nurses and neighbours, partners and parents, all murderers who shocked Australia with the severity of their crimes. But what makes them tick? Society couple Michael O'Neill and Stuart Rattle had it all: their lavish country property, their interior design business, until Michael bludgeoned Stuart to death with a cooking pan. Akon Guode intentionally drove into a lake, leaving three of her children trapped in the car to drown. Geoff Hunt, pillar of the local community, shot dead his wife and their three children before killing himself. From feuds on the farm to the infamous Lindt Caf Siege in Sydney, Mind Behind the Crime profiles Australia's most horrific and often most unlikely killers. Renowned psychologist Dr Helen

McGrath and prolific journalist Cheryl Critchley authors of the bestselling Why Did They Do It join forces again to unpack the crimes and discover the personality disorders of the perpetrators They use psychoanalysis and scientific methodology to uncover the circumstances and motives of our country's most notorious murderers and to really understand the mind behind the crime

Hideout In the Apocalypse John Stapleton, 2016-11-10 Hideout in the Apocalypse is about surveillance and the crushing of Australia's larrikin culture In the last three years the Australian government has prosecuted the greatest assault on freedom of speech in the nation's history The government knew from international research that when it introduced the panopticon universal surveillance into Australia it would have a devastating impact on the culture When people know they are being watched they behave differently Dissent is stifled conformity becomes the norm This is the so called chilling effect Hideout in the Apocalypse in the great tradition of The Lucky Country takes Australia's temperature half a century on from Donald Horne's classic cautionary tale Now the future has arrived Forced by a plethora of new laws targeting journalists to use novelistic techniques in his latest book veteran news reporter John Stapleton confirms the old adage truth is stranger than fiction Hideout in the Apocalypse takes up the adventures of retired news reporter Old Alex first encountered in the book's predecessor Terror in Australia Workers Paradise Lost But as befits the times this book is more fantastical intimate and politically acerbic in its portrait of his beloved country Alex believes he has been under abusive levels of government surveillance since writing a book called Terror in Australia and as a natural empath can hear the thoughts of the surveillance teams on his track the so called Watchers on the Watch Alex also believes he is a cluster soul sent with others of his kind to help save the Earth from an impending apocalypse and has the capacity to channel some of history's greatest writers Australia might have the worst anti freedom of speech laws in the Western world but how can you sue a character like that Stapleton's essential theme a place which should have been safe from an impending apocalypse the quagmire of religious wars enveloping the Middle East is not safe at all Ideas are contagious and the Australian government is afraid of them Australia is a democracy in name only The war on terror has become a war on the people's right to know justifying a massive expansion of state power Alex's swirling head lifelong fascination with sociology literature and journalism and his deep distress over the fate of the Great Southern Land makes him the perfect character to tell a story which urgently needs to be told

Living Politics in the City Marion Hohlfeldt, Carmen Popescu, 2023-03-15 Public space and performativity from the perspective of architecture In recent decades architecture has been seen as a field of practice that contributes greatly to the performativity of public space In spite of the explosion of virtual communities through social media and the limitations imposed by pandemics architecture today still holds an active role in literally building our societies Bearing in mind its acute politicisation in past years Living Politics in the City looks at public space from the perspective of architecture and its effective contribution not as a prop but as an actual catalyst for embodying politics The essays gathered here span five continents activating various disciplinary approaches to architecture and examining it in different contexts from a

Mediatized Terrorism Saira Ali, 2022-10-21 This book offers an East West comparative analysis of mediatized terrorism This is the first country specific analysis of the mediatization of terrorism with Pakistan and Australia representing the two worlds respectively Caught up in the 9 11 effect Australia is known for its anti terror hyper legislation despite the implausible nature of the threat In contrast Pakistan is plagued by terrorism yet the military establishment favours a duplicitous policy of fighting militant groups selectively To understand how the two diverse cultural sites with their very different experiences of terrorism make sense of this unpredictable threat the book uses Beck's World Risk Society theory as a conceptual framework to examine the production and construction of news narratives around the risk of terrorism in both countries through textual analysis of local news stories and in depth interviews with Australian and Pakistani journalists Narratives about global terrorism are mostly Western with fear of its impact on Western democracy and civilisation This book aims to fill the gap and present a nuanced understanding of global terrorism by examining the characteristics of the phenomenon in a Western as well as an Eastern location and the ways in which the risk of terrorism is being played out in the two worlds This book will be of much interest to students of critical terrorism studies media studies Asia Pacific politics and International Relations

Terror in Australia: Workers' Paradise Lost John Stapleton, 2015-09-28 Terror in Australia Workers Paradise Lost by veteran journalist John Stapleton is a beautifully written snapshot of a pivotal turning point in the history of the so called Lucky Country This book is a sidwinding missile into the heart of Australian hypocrisy In 2015 there were well attended Reclaim Australia demonstrations in every major capital city all protesting what the demonstrators saw as the growing Islamisation of Australia along with countering anti racism demonstrations There were frequent violent clashes hundreds of police were forced to form lines separating the demonstrators in Sydney and Melbourne there were a significant number of arrests and injuries and dozens of people were treated for the effects of capsicum spray The terror alert was at its highest level ever the country was engaged in an unpopular and discredited war in Iraq and Syria and relations between the government and an increasingly radicalised Muslim minority had broken down Despite the billions being spent on national security authorities believed another terrorist attack was inevitable A demoralised population saddled with a history of grotesque overregulation turned inwards increasingly questioning the failed social creeds of the past On the streets once vibrant entertainment districts were desolate while closed and shuttered shops became a characteristic of many suburbs An optimistic freedom loving country with an irreverent larrikin culture and a wildly optimistic view of its place in the world lost faith in its own story Well documented switching through multiple points of view Terror in Australia Workers Paradise Lost is a sometimes frightening sometimes intensely lyrical step inside a democracy in serious trouble Fashion, Women and Power Denise N. Rall, 2021-12-10 This book addresses the relationships between fashion women and power One of the constants within the book is to question the enduring relationship between women and dress and how these inform and articulate the ways in which women remain represented as either suitable or not for public office and their behaviour is informed through dress when they are in power The book critiques the interplays between politics power class race and expectation in relation to the everyday practice of getting dress and the more performative and symbolic function of dress as embodiment As never before women are in positions of political power and find themselves facing the maelstroms of mass media regarding their fashion their deportment and their right to govern The contributors offer a wide set of perspectives on women and their roles and their fashions when taking up powerful positions in Australia New Zealand United Kingdom and the United States From the United Kingdom the historical issues surrounding the movement towards rational dress for women seeking their rights to vote and exercise are interrogated The volume also explores viewpoints from East Asia such as the constricting role for common women upon entering the Imperial family in Japan From the United States come the troublesome media stories engulfing two significant American Democratic First Ladies Hillary Rodham Clinton and Michelle Obama From New Zealand the media reports on Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern upon her motherhood while serving in the office and on her clothing during the 2019 Christchurch massacre comprise a much needed contribution to the literature on women politics and dress Further the role of dress in politics broadly as a form of resistance will be examined in Australia from recent skirmishes over appropriate dress with ex prime minister Julia Gillard and other Australian female politicians The role of women and what their fashion selections mean continues via considerable debate during worldwide events Finally the theme of resistance and social media continues with an examination of protest dressing in the recent street battles in Hong Kong to how young Asian women have been influenced by the social media campaigns to encourage wearing the veil in Indonesia to Asian women negotiating femininity in political dress Primary readership will be among researchers scholars educators and students in the fields of fashion dress studies women and gender studies and media and history It will be of particular value as at graduate level and as a supplementary resource There may be some general appeal to those with an interest in the women or cultures at the centre of the discussions
