Student Politics in Africa Luescher, Thierry M., Klemencic, Manja, 2016-05-12 The second volume of the African Higher Education Dynamics Series brings together the research of an international network of higher education scholars with interest in higher education and student politics in Africa Most authors are early career academics who teach and conduct research in universities across the continent and who came together for a research project and related workshops and a symposium on student representation in African higher education governance The book includes theoretical chapters on student organising student activism and representation chapters on historical and current developments in student politics in Anglophone and Francophone Africa and in depth case studies on student representation and activism in a cross section of universities and countries The book provides a unique resource for academics university leaders and student affairs professionals as well as student leaders and policy makers in Africa and elsewhere On Campus University of the Western Cape, 2003 The Youth Dividend Jan H. Hofmeyr, 2012 Cost-sharing and Accessibility in Higher Education: A Fairer Deal? Pedro N. Teixeira, D. Bruce Johnstone, Maria J. Rosa, Hans Vossensteyn, 2007-11-23 Higher education finances lie at the crossroads in many Western countries Hence worldwide the most common approach to the need for increasing revenue was to use some form or forms of cost sharing or the shift of some of the higher educational per student costs from governments and taxpayers to parents and students This raises several important challenges to higher education systems First there is the political and social controversy associated with most forms of cost sharing particularly with tuition fees Secondly there are important issues in terms of the broad context of social policy such as the role of families and students and the relationship that the state establishes with each of them Third there is the comparison of alternative instruments of cost sharing and the direct and indirect effects of each of them notably in terms of educational equality Overall underlying cost sharing debates are fundamental questions about social choice individual opportunities and the role of government in society The Law of South Africa, 2003 Governance and the postcolony David Everatt, 2019-08-01 Civil society NGOs governments and multilateral institutions all repeatedly call for improved or good governance yet they seem to speak past one another Governance is in danger of losing all meaning precisely because it means many things to different people in varied locations This is especially true in sub Saharan Africa Here the postcolony takes many forms reflecting the imperial project with painful accuracy Offering a set of multidisciplinary analyses of governance in different sectors crisis management water food security universities in different locales across sub Saharan Africa and from different theoretical approaches network to adversarial network governance this volume makes a useful addition to the growing debates on how to govern It steers away from offering a correct definition of governance or from promoting a particular position on postcoloniality It gives no neat conclusion but invites readers to draw their own conclusions based on these differing approaches to and analyses of governance in the postcolony As a robust critical assessment of power and accountability in the sub Saharan context Governance and the Postcolony Views from Africa brings together topical case studies that will be a valuable resource for those working in the field of African international relations public policy public management and administration Juta's Statutes of South Africa South Africa,2004 Fees Must Fall Susan Booyesen,2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and it s double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt A Framework for Transformation National Commission on Higher Education (South Africa),1996 An Evaluation of the First and Second Phases of Cost Sharing in Higher Education in Tanzania I. M. Omari,2002 Responding to the Educational Needs of Post-school Youth Nico Cloete,2009 The research reflected in this volume indicates that in South Africa there are almost three million youth between the ages of 18 and 24 who are not in education training or employment a situation which points not only to a grave wastage of talent but also to the possibility of serious social disruption The authors in this work paint a picture of the enormous reservoir of human talent which exists in the country but is not provided with the means to develop Responding to the Educational Needs of Post School Youth attempts not only to sketch the scope and extent of the current post school educational crisis but also to explore possible solutions through collaboration in the higher education sector The findings reported here are a result of three distinctive but linked research components conducted by the Further Education and Training Institute University of Western Cape the Centre for Higher Education Transformation and the Southern Africa Labour and Development Research Unit University of Cape Town The research was funded by the Ford Foundation and the project conducted in consultation with the Department of Education Higher Education ,2023-11-02 COVID wrought havoc on the world s economic systems Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning Most were not Whether prepared or not educators rose to the challenge The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face to face environment In fact some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face to face model As with all transitions some things were lost while others were gained This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century The book is organized into four sections on Perils and Promises The State of Online Education Goals and Challenges of Online Learning and Innovations in the Age of COVID It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post COVID Higher education has been forever changed and higher education as it once was may never return While many questions arise the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights of accomplishment even in the face of the pandemic
