College Rankings Ideas Store Hours:

An Idea Whose Time Has Come Pramath Raj Sinha, 2011-09-01 Ten years ago the founders of the Indian School of Business Hyderabad articulated a vision that was as daunting to execute as it was simple to state to build a world class business school in India The rest is history within a decade the ISB grew from a start up venture to globally top ranked business school named among the top twenty business schools in the world three years in a row with the distinction of being the youngest business school ever to enter the world top twenty rankings An Idea Whose Time Has Come traces the ISB s eventful history and also examines the reasons that account for the institute s success What emerges is a tale of perseverance and dedication of challenges met and rewards reaped and of an unshakeable idea that was painstakingly transformed into an invincible institution It is no wonder that the ISB continues to attract thousands of confident purposeful men and women every year and moulds them into talented professionals

Ranking Business Schools Linda Wedlin, 2006-01-01 In her admirable book Wedlin entangles what business school rankings really are and why they have become so important The book contains plenty to interest the growing army of business school employees whose duties at least in part are concerned with boosting their institution s position in the rankings Education and Training In times when the management education field is increasingly impacted by a proliferation of ranking exercises this book is a timely and welcome contribution Linda Wedlin unpacks for us the real meaning of the contemporary explosion of rankings Rather than simple classification schemes and mechanisms rankings are she suggests arenas where the field of business education is being created and re created They are the loci of boundary work whereby a field is progressively evolving and constituting itself This is a convincing study relying on rich empirical data and carefully anchored in relevant theoretical debates A must read for all those academics students policy makers and education professionals who want to understand the complex contemporary logics of higher education in management but also probably well beyond Marie Laure Djelic ESSEC Business School Paris France League tables appear everywhere and have become important aspects of business school environments Based on in depth and creatively combined empirical studies Linda Wedlin provides us with explanations and insights on the emergence and impact of such rankings This book should be of great value for all those who seek to play the ranking game It gives a fresh perspective on how classification mechanisms drive the emergence boundary setting and change of organizational fields Kerstin Sahlin Andersson Uppsala University Sweden A fascinating study of the complex issues surrounding MBA rankings Business schools really hate them but at times have to pretend to love them Magazines and newspapers are really interested in their sales potential but have to make pretensions about their veracity Linda Wedlin focuses on an area rich in hypocrisy and hype but also one where there are real consequences ranking furthered re inforces the homogenising tendencies of MBAs Anthony Hopwood Sa d Business School University of Oxford UK This is a most fascinating topic dealt with in a manner which is both serious and entertaining everyone in a business school would want to read it Linda Wedlin's excellent research is presented with a no nonsense approach if there is anything worth counting she counts it and then interprets it no fuss Exemplary Barbara Czarniawska G teborg University Sweden This engaging book offers a fresh perspective on the burgeoning field of European management education and its intense concern with rankings Using a creative mix of well crafted research tools Wedlin deftly captures a professional field in transition as it both expands and develops shared standards Walter W Powell Stanford University US International comparisons and rankings of universities and business schools have proliferated in recent years Ranking Business Schools provides a welcome analysis of this development and its implications for the field of management education theorizing the role of classifications such as rankings in forming and structuring organizational fields Focusing on the European experience with rankings and the subsequent response the book illustrates how business schools use rankings to form identities and positions and to draw boundaries for the field By both creating and confirming belonging to a business school community and providing distinction within that group rankings are important for defining an international field of management education organizations constructing an international business school market and constitute an arena for debating and establishing the boundaries of this field Building an extensive theoretical framework for understanding classification

Business School and the Noble Purpose of the Market Andrew J. Hoffman, 2025-04-08 The intellectual foundation for the next generation of business leaders Today's business schools were designed for a world that no longer exists Capitalism raised the standard of living for billions of people over the past 150 years but is now causing systemic challenges it is unable to address including climate change and inequality And yet business schools continue to teach ideas that are making things worse elevating the primacy of shareholder profits above the interests of employees the environment and society viewing government as an intrusion on the free market rather than an arbiter of its proper functioning and promoting unlimited economic growth despite the devastating environmental and social consequences Business schools cannot simply drop an elective into their curriculum to address these challenges We must rethink the faulty foundations Business School and the Noble Purpose of the Market explains the intellectual foundation MBA students faculty and administrators need to reform capitalism and restore its noble purpose for the 21st century Many business students are in fact seeking this kind of education and frustrated that they are not getting it from their professors This book will fill in gaps in their education equipping them with the models and mindset to rethink shareholder capitalism and serve society's needs Business faculty and administrators will find a practical program for amending curriculum and pedagogy changing student and faculty rewards and bringing a new spirit and sensibility to the business school 145 Things to Be When You Grow Up Jodi Weiss, Princeton Review (Firm), 2004-05-04 Like some teenagers you may already have an inkling of what you want to do with your life Perhaps you dream of launching into space as an astronaut with NASA Or maybe your ambitions will keep your feet on the ground as a park ranger a doctor or a social worker If you are wondering what these people do all day and how they came to be what they are this book provides the answers We'll tell you everything you need to know about 145 great careers from accountant to zoologist including Day to day activities and responsibilities of each career How to plan ahead while you're still in high school Majors to consider when you get to college Whether you'll strike it rich in more ways than one Words of wisdom from professionals in the field This book will open your eyes to a world of career possibilities and give you an idea of what to expect down each career path Even if you have no clue about what you want to be this is the book for you We'll help you identify the kinds of jobs that will help you be yourself and incorporate your interests values and skills There's no pressure for you to choose a career just yet so just relax and have fun exploring Guide to Your Career Alan B.
