Migration And Diversity In Asian Contexts:

Migration and Diversity in Asian Contexts Ah Eng Lai, Francis Leo Collins, Brenda S. A. Yeoh, 2013 This volume makes an important and unique contribution to scholarly understandings of migration and diversity through its focus on Asian contexts Current scholarship and literature on processes of migration and the consequences of diversity is heavily concentrated on Western contexts and their concerns with multiculturalism integration rights and responsibilities social cohesion social inclusion and cosmopolitanism In contrast there has been relatively little attention given to migration and growing diversity in Asian contexts which are constituted by highly distinct and varied histories cultures geographies and political economies This book fills this significant gap in the literature on migration studies with a concentrated focus on communities cities and countries in the Asian region that are experiencing increased levels of population mobility and subsequent diversity Not only does it offer analyses of the policies and processes of migration it also addresses the outcomes and implications of migration and diversity these include a focus on multiculturalism and citizenship in the Asian region the emerging complex forms of governance in response to increased diversity discussions of different settlement experiences and the practices of everyday life and encounters in increasingly diverse locales Global Asian City Francis L.

Collins, 2018-05-03 Global Asian City provides a unique theoretical framework for studying the growth of cities and migration focused on the notion of desire as a major driver of international migration to Asian cities Draws on more than 120 interviews of emigrants to Seoul including migrant workers from Indonesia Philippines Thailand and Vietnam English teachers from Australia Canada New Zealand South Africa UK and USA and international students at two elite Korean universities Features a comparative account of different migrant populations and the ways in which national migration systems and urban processes create differences between these groups Focuses on the causes of international migrant to Seoul South Korea and reveals how migration has transformed the city and nation especially in the last two decades Education and Migration in an Asian Context Francis Peddie, Jing Liu, 2021-04-20 This edited book explores the complex and multifaceted connections between education and migration in an Asian context from multiple perspectives It features studies from China Japan India the Philippines Thailand and Timor Leste and covers diverse migration and education experiences These experiences encompass internal and international migration and forced displacement as well as questions surrounding education such as school choice education provision and training as human capital education and social inclusion and student performance in a post conflict context By covering a wide range of questions and situations the original scholarship in this book reveals how human development concerns and higher rates of movement within and outside of Asian countries operate on multiple levels in a globalized world Migration and Marriage in Asian Contexts Zheng Mu, Wei-Jun Jean Yeung, 2021-11-29 This book analyses how Asian migrants adapt and assimilate into their host societies and how this assimilation differs across their sociodemographic backgrounds ethnic profiles and political contexts The diversities in Asian migrants assimilation trajectories challenge the assumption that given time migrants will eventually integrate holistically into their host societies This book captures the diverse patterns and trajectories of assimilation by going beyond marriage migration to look at how family formation processes are shaped by migration driven by reasons other than marriage Using quantitative qualitative and mixed method analyses not only does this book uncover the nuances of the link between marriage and migration but it also widens methodological repertoires in research on marriage and migration It also captures various social outcomes that may have been influenced by migration including migrants economic well being cultural assimilation subjective well being and gender inequality vis vis marriages This book further embeds the studies in the Asian contexts by drawing on individual countries unique policies relevant to cross cultural marriages the persistent impacts of extended families the patriarchal traditions and systems of religion and caste The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
