interviews with politicians immigrant leaders and militants to analyze interactions between states and immigrants in France and Germany Making frequent comparisons to the United States she delineates the role of states in constructing group identities and measures the impact of immigrant organization and mobilization on national identity Kastoryano argues that states contribute directly and indirectly to the elaboration of immigrants identity in part by articulating the grounds on which their groups are granted legitimacy Conversely immigrant organizations demanding recognition often redefine national identity by reinforcing or modifying traditional sentiments They use culture national references in Germany and religion in France to negotiate new political identities in ways that alter state composition and lead the state to negotiate its identity as well Despite their different histories Kastoryano finds that Germany France and the United States are converging in their policies toward immigration control and integration All three have adopted similar tactics and made similar institutional adjustments in their efforts to reconcile differences while tending national integrity The author builds her observations into a model of negotiations of identities useful to a broad cross section of social scientists and policy specialists She extends her analysis to consider how the European Union and transnational networks affect identities still negotiated at the national level The result is a forward thinking book that illuminates immigration from a new angle discourse are shown to help people to give credible identity performances and to frame social situations The book reveals how social selves change over the life course through stigma labelling and deviant careers and how life in a total institution can radically transform its members identities Through all of these processes self and society are shown to be intertwined This insightful approach will appeal to students taking a range of courses in the sociology of the self identity interaction and everyday life Negotiating Identities in Contemporary Africa Toyin Falola, Emmanuel M. Mbah, 2023-08-29

Negotiating Identities in Contemporary Africa Gender Religion and Ethno cultural Identities explores the changing dynamics of identities in Africa with a focus on gender ethno cultural and religious identity Toyin Falola and Emmanuel M Mbah argue that because identity defines who we are as individuals or groups studies on African identities must focus on understanding the changing dynamics in the socio economic and political spheres in the continent These chapters cover subjects such as women s career identity gender roles and knowledge childlessness ethnocentrism and democracy cultural identity through theater Black identity in the diaspora and diasporic consciousness Using existing scholarship the chapters in this edited volume challenge our understanding of what identity entails and provide new discussions on the hitherto politicized historiography of some identities in Africa Negotiating Identity Ethan Christofferson, 2012-09-13 Negotiating Identity addresses the missiological problem of why the Hakka Chinese Christian community in Taiwan is so small despite evangelistic efforts there for more than 140 years Christofferson explores the tensions between being Hakka and being Christian in northwestern Taiwan and discusses what both Hakka non Christians and Christians are doing and saying in the context of these tensions This ethnographic study uses the lens of social constructionism and consequently offers an example of how social science scholarship can help missionaries and other Christian workers to gain significant insights into the thoughts feelings and actions of those living in their ministry locations Of interest is Christofferson s conclusion that the missiological perspective which puts a primary focus on ministering to a people group is inadequate for explaining and engaging the complexities encountered in many ministry settings He suggests that an awareness of the way people are negotiating their identities can help Christian workers to better understand and strategically engage people in a variety of ministry contexts throughout the world Negotiating Identities, Language and Migration in Global London Cangbai Wang, Terry Lamb, 2024-01-16 This book explores the transnational practices of migrant groups in global London illustrating the complex relations between migrants and the city in the context of globalisation The chapters offer a starting point to examine migrants and the city from a comparative perspective by bringing together case studies of diverse migrant communities They use languaging as the central concept in the development of an interdisciplinary framework that creates an opportunity to talk across disciplines to engage with key issues crisscrossing migration cities and language The book promotes language based or language sensitive research drawing on the plurilingual repertoires and the language and translanguaging practices of migrant communities as the tool for data collection and ethnographic fieldwork This approach generates fresh insights into the complex issues of diasporic identities belonging and place making which have broad implications for migration studies in post Brexit Britain and beyond Negotiating Identities: Adolescent Mothers' Journey to Motherhood
