Assessment of Problem Solving Using Simulations Eva Baker, Jan Dickieson, Wallace Wulfeck, Harold F. O'Neil, 2017-09-25. This volume explores the application of computer simulation technology to measurement issues in education, especially as it pertains to problem-based learning. Whereas most assessments related to problem solving are based on expensive and time-consuming measures, i.e., think-aloud protocols or performance assessments that require extensive human rater scoring, this book relies on computerization of the major portion of the administration, scoring, and reporting of problem-solving assessments. It is appropriate for researchers, instructors, and graduate students in educational assessment, educational technology, and educational psychology.
