Rhoads,1997-07-24 In Community Service and Higher Learning Robert A Rhoads examines the experiences of students as they commit themselves to community service during their college years The author explores how a student s sense of self may be challenged through involvement in the lives of others within the context of community service relationships Central to his explorations of the self is the role caring plays as a source of self understanding and identity development Drawing upon classic symbolic interactionists such as George Herbert Mead as well as contemporary feminists such as Carol Gilligan and Nel Noddings Rhoads suggests ways in which the self might be reconsidered with an ethic of care philosophy at its core He argues that higher education ought to play a key role in fostering more relational and caring individuals and that community service offers a pedagogical opportunity for encouraging the development of more caring selves He maintains that as society becomes increasingly complex diverse and potentially fragmented caring becomes a more important facet of one s sense of self than perhaps ever before It is only through an increasing concern for the other the essence of caring that one is able to bridge the relational barriers posed by the postmodern condition Manipulated into Fear Marvela Dawnay,2012-12-21 MANipulated Into Fear is based on a true story about a man I went to high school with and years later married and divorced three times within thirteen years His name was Rolf During this time I was living the dark side of life but others perceived me as living a happy and perfect life Back in our high school days Rolf grew up as a farmer and drank beer with his buddies After high school he began to run with the wrong crowd and changed dramatically I knew he liked to drink a lot of beer and liquor and had used drugs in the past but I was not aware of his addictive personality and the severity of his addictions At the beginning of our relationship each time he portrayed himself as the man I had thought he was years before Within a period of time he began to manipulate me into fear and take control of my life to benefit himself All three times in the beginning of my relationship with Rolf he was dedicated to Christ was family oriented charming kind respectful and loving complimented me all the time apologized for his actions and knew how to make me feel sorry for him Shortly after I would marry him he would begin to manipulate and con me into doing things I did not want to do Rolf would call me uncountable times during the day and want to know my whereabouts He then insisted on being with me except for when I was at work This took my time away from friends and family and that is when the mental abuse began He stopped complimenting me and began calling me names making me feel worthless and told me that nobody liked me When I would accuse him of wrongdoings he would become outraged screaming at me and using profanity After he gained control of me the physical abuse began Later I learned that I had repeatedly been involved with a psychopath and that there is always a pattern Get out of the relationship and dont go back The person will never change Five Star ForeWord Clarion Review Elizabeth Millard One of the more hidden forms of abuse comes when a romantic partner parent or boss creates a hostile environment by preying on a person s fears or self doubt This type of emotional abuse can be devastating and have long lasting effects Because it may lack the physical component of violence a victim can suffer for years before recognizing the abuse In sharing her story Dawnay aims to help prevent other women from falling into a similar pattern of abuse That impetus is clear in the no nonsense focused fury of her writing style Read the full review <https://www.forewordreviews.com/reviews/manipulated-into-fear>

A Killer Unleashed Jackie Layton, 2023-02-14 When a client's dog turns up missing and her husband turns up dead Low Country dog walker Andi Grace Scott will have to rely on dogged determination to track down a killer When a frantic client calls worried about her dog Andi Grace is happy to drop by the woman's home and check in on her beloved pet. She's initially concerned when she discovers the dog's not in the house but she's out and out shocked to discover that the woman's husband is strangled to death in his office chair. On top of that she soon finds a ransom note demanding a hefty sum for the dog's safe return. Andi Grace knows better than to meddle in a murder investigation but there's no way she's going to let a dognapper get away with it. Unsure of whether the killer took the dog or if they were unrelated crimes, Andi Grace finds herself confounded from the start. More puzzling still is that the dog's owner seems more upset about her missing pooch than her dead husband. Could the whole thing have been a setup? Did the woman murder her own husband and send Andi Grace to the house under false pretenses to discover the body? As sinister as that possibility may be, the trail of clues leads Andi Grace to uncover an even more nefarious scheme and she knows she'll have to tie up all the loose ends fast before the whole case goes to the dogs. Praise for the Books of Jackie Layton. Kept me guessing till the end. Andi Grace is an excellent amateur sleuth and Caught and Collared is an engrossing and enjoyable cozy mystery. The Book Decoder Best Books of 2022. Andi Grace is adorable, resilient, and has a doggedly curious need to solve a murder. A pleasure to read. C Hope Clark, award-winning author of Edisto Tidings. Completely charming and exactly what a cozy mystery should be. Amateur sleuth and dog whisperer Andi Grace Scott is wonderfully endearing and her devotion to her pooches and to justice will have you rooting for her from the absolutely irresistible page one. Bow wow! What a terrific debut. Hank Phillippi Ryan, nationally best-selling and award-winning author of The Murder List. Los Angeles Magazine, 2005-06. Los Angeles magazine is a regional magazine of national stature. Our combination of award-winning feature writing, investigative reporting, service journalism, and design covers the people, lifestyle, culture, entertainment, fashion, art, and architecture and news that define Southern California. Started in the spring of 1961, Los Angeles magazine has been addressing the needs and interests of our region for 48 years.
